Organizational Changes Made In County Police Department

PRINCESS ANNE — A reorganization, prompted by the needs of a growing county, took place Friday in the Princess Anne County police department.

Police Chief J. E. Moore announced a general shake-up in which Sgt. T. S. Williams was promoted to lieutenant and will serve as the chief's assistant.

An addition to the staff is Mrs. Jackie Menden, of Oceana. She will make it possible, Moore said, to keep the department's central files open until midnight.

"It's a need we've had for a long time," Moore said.

Other changes include the promotion of George Bryan to sergeant and placing him at the head of the Youth Bureau. Bryan has filled the vacancy left by Sgt. M. J. Martinelli, who resigned several months ago.

Sgt. F. W. Strunich was removed from charge of the Detective Bureau and becomes a patrol sergeant. Replacing him is Detective R. H. Stone, who was promoted to sergeant.

Patrolmen promoted to detectives are R. E. Norberg, N. C. Fisher and D. M. Cox. Reverting to patrolmen, first class were Detectives J. C. Brady Jr. and Patrol Sgt. E. W. Noisy.

Patrolman H. W. Aldrich also was promoted to patrol sergeant.

Also taking place yesterday were a number of promotions in the Traffic Patrol Department.

Patrolman Donald J. Craig was upped from second to first class patrolman; George Main Jr., William R. Friswell and Clarence L. West moved from patrolman third class to patrolman second, and Patrolman Clark Whitehurst jumped from fourth to second class.

Moore said the reorganization "has been in the making for a long while."

He explained that it was designed to give the police department and to lighten the load in his office.

"The county has grown considerably in recent years," he said, "and changes are necessary to keep up with problems which arise with this growth."

Rescue Squad Gets $500 Check

A $500 check was presented to the Virginia Beach Rescue Squad by representatives of Fort Story, to assist the squad in its mercy operations. Here William MacDonald, captain of the squad, (left) and F. M. Durham, Jr., squad treasurer, accept the check from Colonel George E. Woods, Jr., commanding officer of the Army Transportation Corps post. At right is Major Herman Nader, project officer for the post's United Charity Drive. The Rescue Squad was one of several worthy organizations which received money from this drive.

Norfolk Children's Theatre to Present 'Travelling Musicians'

Saturday a Big Day for Children At Va. Beach High School Auditorium

By Kay Doughtie Sewell

Virginia Beach children are in for a special treat on Saturday March 9. The Norfolk Children's Theatre is bringing its latest production, "The Travelling Musicians," for two performances in the Virginia Beach High School Auditorium. One is scheduled for 11 a.m., the second for 2 p.m. The show is about an hour long.

This is more than a treat for the children. It's also a boon for Virginia Beach mothers. Nature provides them with a wonderful playground of sea, sand, and fresh air. But most mothers hanker to give their children cultural benefits as well — especially those in the palatable form of superior entertainment.

Such events come up with great regularity in Norfolk. But it's a definite undertaking to transport a group of Virginia Beach youngsters into town and back to see a show, as any mother who has ever been in the driver's seat knows full well.

So, this coming Saturday, "The Travelling Musicians" will travel to the beach. It's an interesting sign of the times. Last fall, the Virginia Beach Concert Association imported the Feldman Group for its opening concert. Apparently the beach colony now feels itself sufficiently strong in numbers to embark on such enterprises with a reasonable assurance of success. The box office will open Saturday morning at 9:30 at the High School.

The play was produced in Norfolk Feb. 23. It is reported three sell-out performances. Not surprisingly, the author is Norfolk's own Fran Martin, author of many successful children's books (e.g., "Pirate Island") and plays.

"The Travelling Musicians" is actually an adaptation of one of the most popular of Grimm's fairy tales, "The Musicians of Bremen."

Its principal characters are an old donkey, a cat, a dog, and a rooster. Because of their age, they have been turned out in the world. Nothing daunted, they form their own band of musicians. In their adventures, they come up against a band of robbers bent on robbing gold. Of course they win out over

Princess Anne Club Sets Date On Pool Bids

Bids for new pool facilities at the Princess Anne County Club will be opened here March 8, according to Rzy Neil, manager of the club.

Desires for the facilities was drawn by Oliver and Smith, Norfolk architects. Bids were previously opened for a T-shaped swimming-diving pool combination to cost $35,000.

Herbert L. Smith III, architect, said the bids to be opened next Friday call for construction of a terrace of concrete and grass around the pool, a men's and women's locker room and a snack bar. He said a dancing and dining terrace will be located above the locker-snack bar structure. Plans also call for a new entrance and parking facilities, he said.

He said the style of the new structure is "contemporary but keeping with the existing clubhouse."

New, Enlarged Rose's 31st Street Store Officially Opens Today

A new and enlarged Rose's store on 31st Street will open its doors to the public today with the greatest display of merchandise ever assembled in this city.

The greatly enlarged store will officially open at 9 a.m. today with an appropriate ribbon-cutting ceremony. Mrs. Alice Vaughan, daughter of the late P. H. Rose, founder of the variety chain, will cut the ribbon.

The new and enlarged store is more than three times the size of the original store that opened here in September, 1954. The store as presented today encompasses more than 11,000 square feet of floor space. It represents one of the largest stores in the variety chain of some 145 stores. The 31st Street Rose's store remains a self-service variety store. It was the first self-service store in the Rose chain when it opened in 1954 and the organization now has more than 30 such stores.

Robert D. Clayton is manager of the store and has been since the original store opened. He observed that the store previously employed about 15 persons, but the new store will carry approximately 30 persons on its payroll.

N. B. Rose, a director of the chain and superintendent for the Norfolk and Tidewater area, said: "The opening of this large store demonstrates the trust and faith we have in the future of Virginia Beach and this area."

One of the features of the new and enlarged store is the greatly expanded variety of items to be found by the shopper. The store also features three entrances and check out counters at each entrance. The store is entered from the huge automobile parking area that surrounds the store.

Officials of the Rose organization who will be on hand today for the official opening include: T. B. Rose, president; L. H. Harvin, Jr., executive vice-president; J. T. Church, vice-president; H. Tucker, personnel director; and G. E. Rose, vice-president in charge of construction. Mayor Frank A. Durbach, of Virginia Beach, will also be present.

The new store will be open from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. today, 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. Friday, and from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Saturday. Many opening day specials are being offered.

Two Men Held In $900 Theft

PRINCESS ANNE — Two East Ocean View men, charged with stealing a pocketbook containing $900 on Jan. 20, have been ordered held for the action of a county grand jury.

Otis White and Jimmie Scellato were held in the theft from Mrs. Virginia Waterfield, operator of Doc's Corral at East Ocean View, following a hearing before Judge J. Davis Reed Jr. here Monday.

Judge Reed also convicted Robert James Mapp Jr., of the $300 block of Sharpe Rd., Little Creek, of illegally selling a pint of whiskey. He was fined $100 and given a 30-day suspended jail sentence.

According to testimony, county police had an unidentified man purchased a pint of whiskey from Mapp in a restaurant in East Ocean View. Marked money, used for the purchase, was later found in the restaurant cash register.

Seahawks & Cavaliers Will Again Play Football

The Princess Anne Cavaliers and the Virginia Beach Seahawks will again meet on the gridiron this year, according to a joint announcement by Principals J. Warren Littleton, of Princess Anne, and James A. Johnson, Jr., of Virginia Beach.

November 22 is the date set for the contest which was abruptly cancelled earlier this year over what was described as contract troubles between the two schools.

"The very glad we was back together," said Littleton, who added that Virginia Beach would get 40 per cent of the gate or $500, whichever is greater.

Said Johnson: "Everything's fine."

The November 22 date caused both schools to alter their football schedules slightly.

Princess Anne, which had signed a contract to play Group II Northampton of Eastern Shore on November 16, the date of previous games with the Virginia Beach. Now the Cavaliers' junior varsity will play Northampton on that date. The game will be played at Princess Anne.

Virginia Beach's schedule is not yet complete, but Johnson expects the November 16 date to be filled. The game with Princess Anne will end the season.

Princess Anne and Virginia Beach formerly played under an agreement which split gate receipts, 50-50. Princess Anne wanted to change to a home-and-home guarantee basis. They were unable to agree and Princess Anne scheduled Northampton for November 16.

The school, it looked as if the schools would not get together again soon in football. They do not play in basketball because of Eastern District Group I schedule requirements.

When they meet next fall, each team will be under a new coach. Pete Sachon will succeed Frank Taylor at Princess Anne, and George Tepo will replace Fred Isaacs at Virginia Beach.

It now appears that one of $500 Dog Shy of Busy Streets

It's not every little dog that's worth $500 in its own right.

But a little dog worth $500 was wandering northward up Atlantic Avenue about 4:30 p.m. Monday.

One Virginia Beach housewife, driving toward the village for groceries, noticed him about 64th street. Just a grey little, scared little, dazed little dog, looking for safety.

She pulled over to the parking lot, called him back to the first lane. He just didn't seem to know how to get off the highway. He acted like the proverbial accident, looking for a place to happen.

Eventually, the housewife gave up, went on about her business. She was stopped at Laskin road by a young man tapping at her car window. Another car with two other young men inside pulled over to the edge of the road.

"Mam," said the young man, "we've got your dog. We saw you looking anxious and trying to get it, and we got it for you."

The young men were Davis Gray, 17, a sophomore at Virginia Beach High School; Jimmy Holland, 16, also a sophomore, and Mike Standing, 16, a freshman.

Apparently, they'd been tipped off by "Doc" (James MacKenzie), delivery man for Ingraham's Pharmacy, that this must be the dog of the housewife.

The dog wasn't. He was just a little shivery bunch of fur on the floor of the car, and full of briars.

Neither Gray, Jimmy nor Mike has a penny yard in which to keep a dog overnight. There it developed he already was wanted by Mrs. Rebecca Moursund, well known in dog circles here and throughout the county.

"The dog," said Mrs. Moursund, "arrived here Friday, disappeared on Saturday. He was flown here from California to stand at stud. He's a silver poodle, valued at $500."

And that's the little grey dog that was wandering, his-or-miss, up Atlantic Avenue yesterday afternoon.

Det. Sgt. R. H. Stone of the county police said yesterday the "game" took place at Lake Smith Sunday shortly after midnight. It ended when one of the boys, a 14-year-old, was shot through the calf of the left leg with a bullet from a .25 automatic pistol.

The wounded boy was taken to Norfolk Community Hospital for treatment. The other two, a 16-year-old and a 18-year-old, named by police as Rubeck Isaacson, were charged with felonious shooting. They will appear in the County Court Friday.

These Dogs Tree a Few Coons

Charles E. McChesney, Sr., is shown with his prized hunting dogs and some of the coon pelts gathered during the coon hunting season which ended in January. McChesney is a veteran at the sport having hunted the woods from Virginia Beach to Knotts Island for the past 50 years.

Retired Coast Guardsman Adroit Coon Hunter

A retired Coast Guardsman and a veteran member of Virginia Beach's sanitation department is also one of the nation's most adroit coon hunters and one of its most enthusiastic.

He is Charles E. McChesney Sr., who is 64 years old and who retired from the Coast Guard service several years ago after completing 26 years of service with that honorable arm of our nation's defense establishment.

"Charlie" Mac, as he is known by so many here, is a renowned hunter of the elusive 'coons as his record for the past 50 years will attest. McChesney has lived in Virginia Beach for 32 years and has hunted coons from the Beach into neighboring North Carolina for 50 of those years.

McChesney has three prized coon dogs and the season just passed found the veteran hunter bagging some 60 of the coons. Asked the worth of a good coon pelt, McChesney said, "In the old days they would bring as much as $8 or $9, but today you are lucky to get $1.50 for a pelt."

The affable McChesney noted that on the average night he will walk about five miles to get a single coon. But, he added, it is worth the reward one gets when his dog tree a coon and the "critter" is felled.

McChesney also stated that a good coon dog is worth between $300 and $500. He purchased two new dogs about three years ago and they are named "Luke" and "Blue". These dogs were purchased from the leading coon dog breeding area of the United States—The Great Smoky Mountains. McChesney tells the story that the first night out with "Luke" and "Blue" he and a companion went to a tree where the dogs indicated they had treed a coon, but they found none. The second time they found no coon. They then read a letter from the man they purchased the dogs from and he advised them not to go to the tree the first two times the dogs called but to go on the third time.

for the dogs would have treed all the coons in one tree.

The normal coon season runs from October 1 through the middle of January each year, McChesney revealed. He stated that the past season was a good one.

McChesney has been with the Sanitation Department of the City of Virginia Beach for the past seven years. He lives at 726 24th Street and has five children residing here. They are sons, R. R. "Buddy," Charles E. Jr., and John; daughters, Mrs. Margaret Riggs and Mrs. Virginia Corey.

The interview with McChesney ended when "Luke" and "Blue" started howling for their dinner—it was mealtime for the coon dogs.

International Photographic Exposition To Be in Capital

RICHMOND, Va.—Virginia will represent the United States, by invitation, in the INTERNATIONAL PHOTOGRAPHIC EXPOSITION in Washington, D. C. from March 22 to 31 inclusive. J. William Inge, Jr., President of the Virginia Travel Council, announced today.

The Virginia exhibit will be only one of 12 especially designed-to-be-photographed by 30,000 visiting photographers from the United States, England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Japan, and other foreign countries will sponsor the other special displays. Virginia alone will represent the United States.

The visitors will be invited to "make a trip around the world" on a roll of film.

Mr. Inge said that a display committee, headed by Robert A. Wilson of Richmond, has selected "Monticello," the national shrine to Thomas Jefferson at Charlottesville, as the subject of the exhibit. A cast of four persons in costumes will represent life at "Monticello," and will include Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson. The exhibit has been designed by Day Lowry of Richmond, with the help of committee members, including James Addison of Norfolk and Thomas Shifflet of Williamsburg. Louie Head of Richmond will produce the exhibit with the aid of J. L. Rice and Frank Dement of Richmond.

The exhibit will include a polygraph, invented by Jefferson and now used by the United States Treasury in the signing of the national currency. The Virginia Travel Council expects to have for free distribution copies of the Declaration of Independence and the Virginia Statute for Religious Freedom. The documents will be signed with the polygraph by the actor representing Jefferson. Quill pens, ink and blotting sand will be authentic reproductions. EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Beach Has Biggest Opportunity

Virginia Beach is probably facing its biggest opportunity in its history this year with the gigantic 350th Anniversary Jamestown Celebration only a matter of weeks away from its beginning. It is hoped that all citizens of this area realize the magnitude of this event which will last for a period of eight months.

Certainly Virginia Beach stands to gain much through the next several months that will be felt for a long time. The celebration should attract tourists from all over the world as well as from every corner of the Old Dominion.

The part Virginia Beach has to play in this attraction is in housing, feeding and entertaining these visitors. The impression of Virginia Beach they get on this visit will reflect very definitely in the future of this city as a resort.

It behooves every resident of Virginia Beach, and particularly the business houses that serve the public to take stock of the appearance of their places and to make the necessary improvements before the big influx of visitors is upon us.

Virginia Beach should get prepared to present itself as the finest resort on the Eastern Seaboard, which it is. We should see that every visitor who comes our way this year for the Jamestown event is completely "sold" on Virginia Beach. In this way we can look for this visitor to visit us in the years ahead.

Congratulations Are In Order

Today we are pleased to congratulate the tremendously successful Rose organization, operators of some 145 variety stores in Virginia, North and South Carolina, on the official opening of their new and greatly enlarged 31st Street store here in Virginia Beach.

The 31st Street Rose's store opens today offering the public the greatest variety of merchandise ever assembled in Virginia Beach. The new store is more than three times the size of the original store that opened in September, 1954.

The Virginia Beach store is one of the top four stores in the sprawling chain as to floor space and variety of merchandise. The local store was the first self-service store opened by the variety chain which now has more than 30 stores of the self-service type.

As one spokesman for the Rose organization so aptly put it: "This store demonstrates the trust and faith we have in the future of Virginia Beach and this area."

We are proud to have business firms of the Rose type in our city and we congratulate them on their new and enlarged 31st Street store.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

Pedestrian Deaths

Col. C. W. Woodson, Jr., superintendent of state police, has made a significant observation in pointing out an increase in Virginia's pedestrian deaths from 152 in 1955 to 168 in 1956.

Col. Woodson, who is chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, quotes national estimates showing that nine out of 10 pedestrians killed are not licensed to drive a motor vehicle. This, in the Colonel's opinion, shows a lack of appreciation as to the "dangerous potentialities of an automobile and the limitations placed on the driver."

It also is significant that most January pedestrian deaths occurred as the result of a forbidden act by the pedestrian, such as crossing in mid-block.

These are facts worth remembering by the pedestrian. Before stepping into a roadway, he should remind himself that at the top legal speed of 55 miles an hour, a driver needs at least 220 feet—or almost the distance of a football field—in which to stop after he sights a pedestrian.

In many cases, the driver is blameless. This was true in January when 20 pedestrians died on Virginia roadways. Most of the victims were of advanced age who were killed attempting to cross a highway in darkness.

For the pedestrian, Col. Woodson boils down his statistics to this: "It is suicidally foolish for a walker to dispute the right of way with an automobile; people should walk where the driver expects them to walk; they should always leave a big margin for safety."

And he asks the driver not only to refrain from illegal acts but actually to lean over backwards in protecting those about. The pedestrian, the Colonel notes, has the right of way unless he is walking illegally and even then, it is the driver's legal responsibility to make every reasonable effort to avoid hitting him.—"Winchester (Va.) Star"

Notes From Your County Agent

BY E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.

PETERBOROUGH, N. H. — A new record placing four in milk and sixth in fat production among the 10 highest of the Guernsey breed in her class has just been completed by the registered cow, Bayville Scote Odelia, a senior two year-old, owned by Bayville Farms, Incorporated, Princess Anne County, Virginia.

"Odelia" produced 12,042 pounds of milk and 561 pounds of fat in 305 days on three times daily milking.

This purebred cow was bred for production. "Odelia" is classified Very Good for type. Her dam, Hamburg Noble Royal's Odelia, has a record of 11,021 pounds of milk and 652 pounds of fat, made as a senior two year-old, in the 365 - 3X division. "Odelia" was sired by Southampton Maxim, that has two sons and 47 tested daughters in the Performance Register of the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

The record of this cow was supervised during the test period by Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

PRODUCTION OF MILK CONTINUES AT RECORD LEVEL. Production of milk continues to set new records, report agricultural economists at VPI.

The number of milk cows in early 1957 apparently is about the same as a year ago, but the rate per cow continues to exceed previous high records. Milk output in December reached 9.1 billion pounds, raising the annual total to a record 127 billion pounds.

Current price relationships are favorable for large milk production this winter. Although supplies of feed concentrates are large, quality of hay is not as good as last year in some northern sections. However, prospects point to an increase in the 1957 output of about 2 billion pounds of milk over 1956, but surplus of dairy products for 1957 as a whole probably will be no larger than in 1956.

The pattern of milk use changed little from 1955 to 1956. No major item changed more than 5 percent between the two years. Most of the increase in milk output was used for fluid products. Unless price supports change significantly, the pattern is not expected to show much change in 1957. Per person consumption of dairy products last year increased about 1 percent. Little change is likely in 1957.

The average price to farmers increased 4 percent in 1956 over 1955—the result of higher prices for both fluid and manufacturing milk. As a result of prices and record large sales, farm receipts from sale of dairy products almost equaled the record high of 1952.

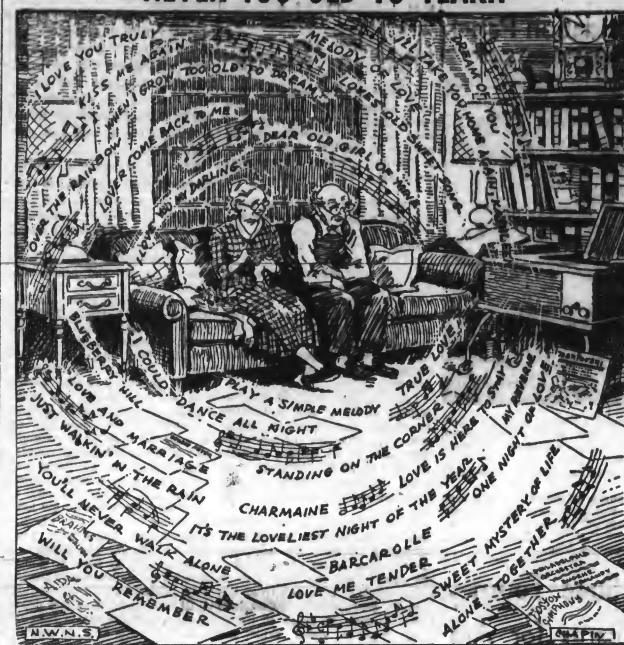

PETERBOROUGH, N. H. — A new record placing eight in milk production among the 10 highest of the Guernsey breed in her class has just been completed by the registered cow, Bayville Royal Elsie, a junior two year-old, owned by Bayville Farms, Incorporated, Princess Anne County, Virginia.

"Elsie" produced 14,851 pounds of milk and 590 pounds of fat in 365 days on two times daily milking.

This purebred cow was bred for production. "Elsie" is classified Desirable for type. Her dam, Bayville Princess Eleanor, has a record of 15,997 pounds of milk and 711 pounds of fat made as a six year-old, in the 365 - 3X division and met calving requirements. "Elsie" was sired by Bayville Royal Leslie, that has 11 tested daughters in the Performance Register of the American Guernsey Cattle Club. The record of this cow was supervised during the test period by Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

"Don't speed," says our Governor's Highway Safety Committee. "Speed kills and speed is a relative factor. Each added mile per hour not only makes a traffic crash more likely to happen but makes it more severe if it does come. Slow down, lives and let live."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Friend,

You are invited to attend an important meeting in the interest of public participation in cancer control.

This invitation is being sent to individuals and groups who are believed to be influential in molding public opinion and in getting action. We want you, or one or two whom you may select, to come to this meeting to see what your Cancer Society is doing, and to take the story back to your group for action by them.

The meeting will not be a long one; one or two films (which, incidentally, will be available for showing to your group) will be run; a representative sample of literature will be given each of you so that you can determine which of it best suits your group; and both lay and professional representatives of the Princess Anne Unit will be there to explain the program and to answer questions.

Since the meeting will be held in the Community House you will have an opportunity to inspect our Loan and Gift Closet, the Workshop, the Information Center and the Unit Office.

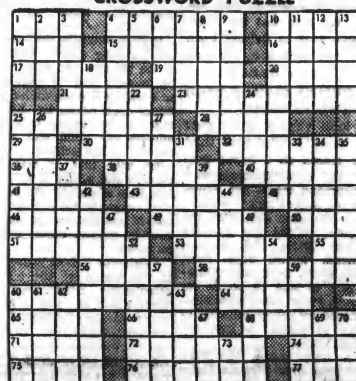

The Place: The Community House, Arctic Ave. at 18th St. The Time: Tuesday, eight p.m. March 19, 1957.

We hope that you will come and help us further this very important program.

"Watch your walking," says our Governor's Highway Safety Committee. Pedestrian deaths in Virginia have taken a terrible rise. Don't take the slightest chance when walking in traffic and always leave a wide margin for safety. Remember, flesh and bone can't stand up to 3,000 pounds of speeding steel.

Toro-Gatewood Wedding Vows Said in February

The marriage of Miss Leona Josephine Toro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Toro of Norfolk to Clavon Russell Gatewood Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clavon Russell Gatewood of North Alantion took place on Saturday, Feb. 9 at 10 a.m. at Christ the King Catholic Church, Norfolk.

The ceremony was performed by Makr, Carroll T. Dzier, pastor of the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon net over tulle, made with sweetheart neckline, short sleeves, with elbow length mitts, and a full skirt. Her veil of illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a white prayer book, topped with white orchids and showered with hyacinth flourishes.

Miss Anna Toro, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a blue ballerina length gown, made a lace yoke and a full chiffon skirt. She wore a matching leaf bandeau with a circular veil. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations, centered with yellow carnations.

James Calleran was best man for Mr. Gatewood.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride. After a Northern wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Gatewood are now residing with the bridegroom's parents in North Alantion.

Homemakers' Items of Interest

Cover on or off? Cooking vegetables in a covered pan has its advantages. You can use less water without danger of burning as the water evaporates. The flavor of all vegetables (except strong ones) is improved by adding seasoning before vegetable is done, and allowing all liquids to be absorbed. This saves vitamins and minerals. You need less fuel because the steam returns to the water. This may be important when fuel costs are high.

The strong flavor of members of the cabbage, onion, and turnip families comes from chemical substances that pass off in steam. These aren't too strong if you use the best quality and cook them only until just tender. Cooking them uncovered helps to prevent strong flavor. Open the window so the odor does not go all through the house.

In a year's time the average rural wife in Virginia cooks 1,095 meals, does 650 hours of cleaning, is in the laundry 312 hours, spends 26 hours mending. If you had to pay for the services performed it would cost around $100 per week.

With supplies of both hamburger and cheddar cheese plentiful, now's the time to try a new idea for cheeseburgers.

Prepare your hamburger according to your favorite recipe. Then mix it with a cup of grated cheese for each pound of hamburger. Make your mixture into patties and leave them in the refrigerator until you're ready to broil them. The cheese adds a tasty flavor to the meat because it is cooked all through it.

With cheeseburgers as a main dish, scalloped or baked potatoes are vegetable suggestions. An apricot salad and a bright-green vegetable, topped off with a dish of chilled custard (any flavor you like) will make a dinner with party atmosphere.

In a year's time the average rural wife in Virginia cooks 1,095 meals, does 650 hours of cleaning, is in the laundry 312 hours, spends 26 hours mending. If you had to pay for the services performed it would cost around $100 per week, say VPI home economists.

Miss Joan Shepherd Adams Bride of Richard C. Coe

A wedding of interest here took place on Tuesday, February 26th at 2:30 p.m. in the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, Merrick, Long Island, N. Y., when Miss Joan Shepherd Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sned Adams of Hempstead, N. Y., formerly of Asheville, N. C., became the bride of Richard Cabot Coe, son of Mrs. Richard Cabot Coe of Hempstead and the late Dr. Cpe.

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore a wedding gown of white satin, trimmed with heirloom scalloped edged rose-point lace with fitted bodice and full skirt. Her waist length veil was arranged from a pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Ruth Curtis Pritchard of Virginia Beach, was maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of yellow mist with a pearl crown, matching mitts, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. The bridesmaids were Misses Emily Jordan of Reidsville, N. C., and Ellen De Vito of Merrick, N. Y. They wore dresses of lime green mist with pearl crowns, matching mitts and carried bouquets of mixed spring flowers.

William Nelson of Garden City, Long Island, was best man and the groomsmen were Richard Crawford and Charles Kemp both of Washington, D. C.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the Garden City Hotel, Garden City, N. Y. Later, the couple left for a wedding trip to Bermuda and upon their return they will reside at 12-B Jackson Court, Hempstead.

The bride is the niece of Mrs. Wharton Pritchard of the Mayflower Apts and has visited frequently at the beach. She graduated last June from Linden Hall Junior College, Lititz, Pa. Her maternal grandparents are the late Rt. Rev. and Mrs. Minor Julius Peters of Portsmouth. Her paternal grandparents are the late John Sned Adams and Mrs. Adams of Asheville, formerly Miss Hattie Hunter Etheridge of Berkeley. The bridegroom is a graduate of Farragut School. He served with the army during World War II.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and fables... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

I'm sure you've been enjoying Citrus Foods all winter long & all thru March—orange & grapefruit can be counted on to be top of their form - So continue serving them real often & give your family plenty of Vitamin C. Citrus fruits are low in cost & high in essential, Vitamin C. Do make the most of their abundance.

If you're watching your waistline—Grapefruit & oranges too - will be very kind to it. For breakfast fruit - for a first course - or for a final course at lunch or dinner - Citrus fruits are just perfect - refreshing and delicious.

Don't ever feel you're serving a commonplace - first course - or dessert - when you're serving half a grapefruit.

There are many possibilities - Here are some - for either first or last course - the usual half, chilled with the maraschino cherry garnish; (red or green); grenadine; dash of biters; crushed pineapple melon balls; sherry wine; sherbet.

For broiled grapefruit - & its mighty good - Prepare as for chilled half - Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon granulated sugar. 2 teaspoons brown sugar - Dot with 1 pat butter, broil for 10 minutes or until golden brown - not too close to flame. Serve at once. Nice for first course or dessert.

You can bake the grapefruit if you prefer - in 450° oven 20 minutes - instead of broiling.

Minted grapefruit is a real treat - Drain well - fresh - canned or thawed frozen grapefruit sections. Roll each in sugar then in finely snipped mint - Arrange spoke - fashion, on chilled glass salad plates with few strawberries or cherries in center.

You'll find Grapefruit-Salad with fish, duck, fresh or smoked pork - a perfect one. This tasty salad can be easily prepared & such appealing addition to your meal.

Peel & remove sections from grapefruit - dip each section in French dressing & arrange on lettuce leaf.

Grapefruit Avocado Cocktail
24 fresh or Canned or thawed frozen grapefruit sections.
1/4 cup French Dressing
1 ripe avocado
1/4 cup French Dressing

Parsley
Combine grapefruit sections with 1/4 cup french dressing.

Peel Avocado - halve - remove pit - cut into crosswise slices 1/4 inch thick - Pour 1/4 cup French Dressing over slices. Arrange 4 grapefruit sections & 4 avocado slices in each of 6 sherbert glasses - garnish with parsley - 6 servings.

You can substitute orange - sections or use part orange & part grapefruit which ever you prefer.

Don't think I'm overlooking oranges - for you can use them in many, many ways - & get that good old, necessary Vitamin C - let's see what I can suggest - Here's one of my favorites -

Orange Cream Dessert
Make heavy custard using 1 package Vanilla Pudding - using about 1 1/2 cups milk - Cook as directed & cool. Spoon into dessert dishes - over it when ready to serve - not before. Arrange orange sections - sprinkle with just a tiny bit of sugar - then a very generous sprinkling of fresh grated coconut. This is good.

Orange Alaska
Halves - core & seed 2 large oranges - cut out as much of orange as you can as carefully as you can. Put into strainer & drain juice away - then put orange in bowl sprinkle with sugar - Chill.

Beat 2 egg whites with pinch of salt - stiff but not dry add gradually 4 tablespoons sugar and beat until very stiff - add 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.

Have oven preheated to 500 degrees - arrange orange shells in baking pan & put some of orange in each shell. Cover with vanilla Ice Cream - then cover carefully with the meringue bring to edges & seal out all of the air - Bake minute or two in oven - just long enough to brown meringue - 4 servings -

For a first course - fill grapefruit shells - with fresh orange slices & thin unpeeled apple slices.

Another one - Remove flesh from Grapefruit halves - & chill. Combine grapefruit and cooked chilled shrimp and put back in halves - What a first course!

A salad that will be wonderful for the Lenten Season will be Cottage Cheese - and oranges.

In the center of a salad plate place crisp lettuce leaves - and 1/2 lb of cottage cheese. Around the cottage cheese - arrange fresh frozen whole strawberries and then around outer edge - orange slices and plenty of them - peel seedless oranges and slice round - slices one over happing the other. Real pretty and real good.

Hot 40-Minute Orange Balls
1 tablespoon orange juice
2 teaspoon orange juice rind
1/2 cup strained honey
1/4 cup margarine
2 cups sifted all purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 cup margarine

About 3/4 cup milk
In small saucepan over low heat - cook orange juice, rind & honey, add 1/4 cup margarine until margarine is melted, simmer 2 to 3 minutes; remove from heat. Meanwhile, start heating oven to 450°. Grease 8 custard cups - divide orange mixture between custard cups.

Into mixing bowl, sift flour, baking powder, salt. With pastry blender or 2 knives, scissor-fashion, cut in 1/4 cup margarine until like corn meal. Stir in enough milk to form soft dough; blend. Divide dough between custard cups. Bake 15 minutes or until done. Remove from cups; invert. Serve hot.

Bye now - Be sure to get lots of Vitamin C.

THE STARS
By LYN CONNELLY
BING CROSBY's recording of "True Love" is his first million seller in some years and it's probably one of his most thrilling, as it marks the 20th gold record in his career a record that will be extremely difficult to top even for Elvis Presley... Incidentally, Grace Kelly realized about $11,000 as her share in the disc, which should just be enough to equip the nursery for the heir.

Speaking of Elvis, his first movie did fairly well at the box office but not half as well as his records, which go like hot cakes... We'd nominate the TV variety show with the best taste as Perry Como's without question, followed closely by Ed Sullivan... Ed, by the way, will not have Presley back for any more appearances as his asking price is a little beyond the budget despite the good he did Sullivan's ratings.

PLATTER CHATTER
CAPITOL—This company has come out with a rash of terrific hit albums, all pretty nice to have around the house... The Four Freshmen, who have made a big name for themselves in a short while, come up with one that all expensives of the new jazz age will take to heart... Accompanied by five trumpets, the boys do 12 numbers in their easy-going, change-of-pace manner, including "Easy Street," "Laughing on the Outside," "After You've Gone," "Goodbye," "Got a Date With An Angel," "Someone Like You," "Good Night, Sweetheart" and others.

In singles, Les Baxter's "A Woman's Devotion" is one to keep your eye on... It's backed by an instrumental that may go places, too: "The Clowns on the Eiffel Tower"... Nat King Cole does his usual good job on "Balladina" and "You are my First Love."

There is no better way to build yourself a retirement fund than by buying U. S. Savings Bonds.

'Top Secret Affair'

WB's Comedy, Due at Beach

"Top Secret Affair," a reportedly delightful war-of-the-sexes comedy starring Susan Hayward and Kirk Douglas starts March 13 at the Beach Theatre. Paul Stewart and Jim Backus are also starred.

The film is the story of a tough-guy General who by circumstance is put through a very special kind of basic training by a beautiful, but-even-tougher lady publisher.

Advance reports have hailed the comedy as one of the liveliest films of the year.

Miss Hayward makes her debut as a comedienne in "Top Secret Affair." The actress has previously won several Academy Award nominations for her portrayals in major film dramas. Her most recent triumph came with "I'll Cry Tomorrow," in which she portrayed an alcoholic songstress.

Kirk Douglas, who has won a prizefighter in "Champion," a musician in "Young Man With a Horn," an adventurer in "Ulysses," and a painter in "Lust For Life," thought that playing a comedy role would be a bit less strenuous than his previous dramatic roles.

No one actor has ever been more surprised than the lucky Douglas. As "Ironpants" Goodwin, he had to participate in physical training, balance himself on a "bonzo" board for several hours at a time, rescue Miss Hayward from a swimming pool, dance Latin dances and fall backwards into an overcrowded nightclub table. Douglas later said that his next several films will probably be action films, "just for a rest."

"Top Secret Affair," directed by "Rock" Martin, produced for Warner Bros.

ASSOCIATED CLUBS OF VA. DEMONSTRATE DEVELOPMENT AND JAMESTOWN FESTIVAL

Representatives of 25 garden clubs, women's clubs and home demonstration clubs of Princess Anne County met Tuesday, February 26 for a luncheon meeting at Shore Drive Inn to plan a beautification program of the county in connection with the Jamestown Festival.

Mr. Frederick Heutte, superintendent of parks and forestry and chairman of the Jamestown Festival Beautification Committee, urged the planting of crepe myrtles and other long-lived shrubs along the highways, forming a permanent floral trail from Cape Henry to Jamestown as a memorial to the first settlers. He also suggested residents plant a border of both red "Comanches" and white "Pale Faces" petunias. They are a new variety that has just appeared on the market. In concluding his remarks Mr. Heutte said "the greatest satisfaction you and I will ever receive from this effort is that we have helped to memorialize Jamestown in a truly living manner."

The president of the Garden Council of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, Mrs. Gilmore Tillbrook, outlined the accomplishments of the council, which includes 14 garden clubs.

Individual clubs might contribute to highway beautification by interesting people in other clubs in the area in planting crepe myrtles and in keeping litter out of the area, according to Mrs. Cecil H. Reed. Mrs. Reed is chairman of the garden department of Women's Clubs.

W. W. McNeill, chief ranger, Seashore State Park, noted that even if the highways are planted they will not be pretty if covered with litter. "Litter is not just from people traveling through," McNeill said. He advocated the education of people on not dumping trash

KEEPING IN TOUCH

That mail box on the city corner . . . that post office at the country crossroads . . . what would we do without them? Life is too complex for us to live by ourselves. Man's interests and his welfare reach far beyond the boundaries of his community. Communication with people and corporations hundreds of miles away is a part of modern living that we take for granted. We have to "keep in touch."

But long before life became so complex, men discovered their need for another kind of communication—prayer. The courage and faith and hope which steel men for the challenge of each day come from God. The deep spiritual needs of the soul can be supplied only by keeping in touch with God.

We think our mail-boxes are indispensable! Even so, one church means more to a community than all its postal facilities. For not so long ago men lived very happily without a postal system. But men have never lived happily without God!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

GOLDEN WEDDING

CELEBRATED:

The advice given by Mrs. Cedon George Parker on the anniversary of the 50th year of married life was this "Don't be complaining, just look up."

Mr. and Mrs. Parker were married February 19, 1907 in the Baptist Church at Rich Square, North Carolina by the Rev. Dancy Cate. Mr. Parker is the son of the late Norman and Sarah Parker. Mrs. Parker, the former Mamie Hunter, is the daughter of the late William Floyd Hunter and Mary Elizabeth Copeland Hunter of Rich Square.

They have resided in Norfolk for the last 22 years. Before his retirement, Parker was a boiler-maker at the Norfolk Shipbuilding and Drydock Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker are the parents of four sons: John C. Parker, William N. Parker, Quenter Gent Parker and Charles Parker, all married. They have seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Mr. and Mrs. Parker are members of the Kempville Baptist Church and reside at 607 Clark Ave., Glenrock.

Sunday, February 24th Mr. and Mrs. Parker were honored at a reception. One of their seven grandchildren, Norman Parker made a figure of a bride and groom which was placed on top of the wedding cake they cut.

LAKE TERRACE GARDEN CLUB:

The Lake Terrace Garden Club has voted to contribute ten dollars to the Jamestown beautification program, to be used to plant crape myrtle trees in Princess Anne County.

The action was taken at the meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. M. J. Balog on Airway Lane.

Mr. Bernhard Wolter, president of the Virginia Camellia Society, spoke on camellias.

Mrs. E. W. Kane and Mrs. R. L. Fisher of the Lansdale Garden Club judged exhibits. They awarded ribbons to Mrs. C. C. Marks, Mrs. Balog, Mrs. Jack Z. Weeks and Mrs. R. J. Shipp.

CAVALIER JR. WOMAN'S CLUB:

The monthly Board meeting of the Cavalier Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County was held at the home of Mrs. S. William Knight on Harvard Street, in Norfolk, on February 28 at eight o'clock. Mrs. E. George Middleton, presided.

The membership chairman presented the name of Mrs. Mary Barber, a prospective member. The board voted to accept her into the club.

Board members were urged to attend the Tidewater District Meeting, to be held March 27 at the Chamberlin Hotel.

HEART FUND DRIVE SUCCESS

More than 60 volunteer workers who called at the homes of residents in Virginia Beach, Bird Neck, Rudee Heights, North Virginia Beach and Bay Colony on Heart Sunday — the last Sunday in February — collected $1,623.39, according to Mrs. A. N. Holmes, chairman for Virginia Beach. The area captain, member of the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County, who sponsored the drive in this locality wish to thank all the residence for their courteous and generous response to the call. Anyone still desiring to make a contribution may mail his donation to Mr. A. W. Craft, Jr., Heart Fund Treasurer at the Bank of Virginia Beach or to the Tidewater Heart Association, Norfolk.

P.A. High School Visits Reindexing Project at Beach

Under the sponsorship of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Princess Anne County, members of the Future Business Leaders of America Club of Princess Anne High School visited a Reindexing Project in the home of Mrs. Rose Lee Mergler at 22nd Street on Wednesday Morning, March 6. Club members, along with their faculty sponsors, had the unique pleasure of seeing first hand the reindexing of Chesterfield County records.

This project with Mrs. Mergler as supervisor, is under contract with the Codd Index Company of Columbus Ohio, which is the only company in the United States that specializes in County Index Systems. Reindexing of county records into loose leaf modern Codd Indexes is a vital part of the business. Mrs. Mergler was with the Codd Company from 1936 to 1940, when she accepted a position with the Federal Government as Assistant State Supervisor of Research and Records. When this project closed in 1944, Mrs. Mergler transferred to the U. S. Employment Service, in which position she will be remembered by many in Princess Anne County and the City of Virginia Beach. In 1953 she returned to the Codd Index Company and has completed projects in Alexandria, Virginia, Columbus, Sandusky, and Lisbon, Ohio. The Chesterfield County project here at Virginia Beach will be completed the first of April, when she, accompanied by Mr. Mergler, will move to Springfield, Ohio, where she will supervise another job.

Mrs. Mergler is charter president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, which will celebrate its seventh anniversary on March 11, at a dinner meeting at the Pine Tree Inn.

- FORT STORY TELLINGS -

PHONE CHANGE

Dial telephones will go into use at Fort Story at 10 p.m. tomorrow (March 8).

A special ceremony will mark the change over, which is being accomplished during a slack period to avoid inconvenience. The change will provide a saving to the government in both time and money, according to Major James A. McCaffrey, post signal officer.

Preliminary studies to the installation of the complicated system began in late September. Joseph E. Gibson of the Army Signal Communications Agency in Washington, D. C. surveyed the post's facilities and was foreman of the special crew brought in for the installation. Post Signal Office personnel worked closely with this crew. Dial telephone sets were actually put into the offices and quarters of the post in November and now the final work is being completed prior to the change-over tomorrow.

New telephone directories were issued this week in preparation for the change.

RESCUE SQUAD

A $500 check was presented to the Virginia Beach Rescue Squad last week by Fort Story to assist the squad in its mercy operations. Captain William McDonnell of the Rescue Squad accepted the check from Colonel George E. Woods, Jr., commanding officer.

of the post.

Funds for the donation came from the post's recently conducted United Charity Drive. Contributions were received from the drive include, besides the Rescue Squad, the United Cerebral Palsy, American Red Cross, March of Dimes, Heart Association, Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, Tuberculosis and Health Association, the American Cancer Society, Youth Aid, Inc. and the Crusade for Freedom.

CONSTRUCTION

Construction has started on 150 units of family housing to be built at this Cape Henry post under the Capehart Act.

The contractor, J. W. Bateson and Sons of Dallas, closed the contract with Norfolk District Engineer on February 20 for a final adjusted figure of $2,435,700 for the housing units and $116,160 for utilities, roads and other off-site work.

A sub-contractor began excavations for streets and similar items last week and construction started early this week and is scheduled to be completed within a year.

Bateson is also building 600 units under the act at Fort Eustis. Fort Story's parent installation in the Transportation Training Command.

Approximately 120 military families presently live on the post and, in a recent study, military authorities reported that 480 military families live off the reservation.

EDUCATION

Classes in Rapid Writing Short-hand are being offered by the Army Education Center at Fort Story. Applications are now being accepted for the class which is scheduled to start in the near future.

Army personnel here are also being given the opportunity to register for courses at the Evening Technical Institute of the College of William and Mary in Norfolk.

Classes will open March 8 in automotive mechanics, drafting, machine shop practice, mechanical mathematics, plumbing, radio, electronics and television, sheet metal work, surveying and welding.

The Army assists its personnel in continuing their education by providing courses on the military reservation, correspondence courses through a U. S. Armed Forces Institute, and arranges with schools in the community for enrollment of soldiers in off-duty classes.

UNIT TO RETURN

Advance parties of the 344th Amphibious Truck Company have returned to Fort Story and the main portion of the unit is due in the near future.

The unit, commanded by First Lieutenant William A. Schilling, departed early in January for participation in NODEX (New Over-The-Shore Discharge Exercise) Number 13 in France, which has just concluded. Five officers, 17 non-commissioned officers and 96 other enlisted men took part in the NODEX, which is a special training maneuver held periodically in Europe.

The 344th operated DUKWs in supply operations there.

Fort Story conducts all of the Army's initial amphibious truck training.

SPEAKERS

First Lieutenant George N. Graf, Jr., adjutant of the 370th Transportation Battalion here, will speak before the American Legion in Virginia Beach tonight (March 7). Subject of the 8 p.m. talk will be "The Importance of Training At Fort Story."

A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, Lieutenant Graf has served in a number of different units on the post which provides a background for his talk.

He is also president of the Fort Story Holy Name Society.

On March 14, Captain Ernest P. Hoff, who commands the 564th Transportation Platoon — the unit while he assigned the mammoth BARC's (Barge, Amphibious, Resupply, Cargo) — will speak before the Norfolk Kiwanis Club. Hoff will speak at the 1 p.m. meeting in the Monticello Hotel on "Amphibious Operations at Fort Story."

Captain Hoff has commanded not only the 98-ton BARC's, but the gigantic Landing Craft Retriever as well.

First Lieutenant John M. Caplice, commanding officer of the 66th Amphibious Truck Company, has been added to the roster of speakers available through the Fort Story Speakers Bureau. The bureau provides speakers on a wide variety of subjects to civic, patriotic, educational and similar organizations in the area.

A graduate of John Carroll University, Lieutenant Caplice is particularly well-versed in transportation. He received the Army's Stevedore Supervision Course and took part in the 1956 operations in the Far North when Army Transportation Corps Troops — in cooperation with the Marine Corps — carried supplies and equipment to vital radar installations and military bases near the Arctic Circle. He has been a member of the National Defense Transportation Association since 1953.

RESERVE UNIT

A newly-organized Army Reserve unit completed special training at Fort Story this week.

The 46th Amphibious Truck Company, organized in Portsmouth on an authorization transferred from Richmond on January 15, received special classes in DUKW operations here for the past two Sundays. Fort Story's 46th Amphibious Truck Company is nicknamed "The Barracudas" — was in charge of the training.

Commanded by Captain John L. Gray, the unit consists presently of three officers and 25 enlisted men.

During regular summer periods, Fort Story trains Army Reservists from a number of units each year. Nearly 1,600 civilian soldiers and Reserve Officers Training Corps cadets received training here last year, for example.

"Don't let the spring weather distract your driving or walking," says our Governor's Highway Safety Committee. Last March, 52 people died in Virginia traffic. The Committee warns that modern traffic requires every bit of our attention and skill. Use them both.

Linkhorn Park Garden Club

The Linkhorn Park Garden Club met in March at the Princess Anne Country Club.

New officers were elected for 1957-58 as follows: President, Mrs. W. C. Harrell; first vice president, Mrs. William Meredith; second vice president, Mrs. H. T. Rose; recording secretary, Mrs. M. H. Marshall Jr.; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert K. Malloy; Treasurer, Mrs. S. Holcombe. They will be installed at the April meeting.

Mrs. Clinton Woodhouse judged the arrangements and specimens giving constructive criticism. The awards given were: Gold, Mrs. William Rueger, Mrs. W. G. Grant, Mrs. Mills E. Bell; Blue, Mrs. William B. Lobach, Mrs. D. W. Gregory, Mrs. Robert K. Malloy, Mrs. W. C. Barclay, Mrs. F. A. Streiff; Red, Mrs. J. J. Standing, Mrs. W. W. Gregory; and Yellow, Cdr. THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER

Most glamorous car in a generation

When the wind blows — this baby won't rock!

You can buck the strongest blasts of March in The Mighty Chrysler without road-way or hard steering. Impartial wind tunnel tests proved that Chrysler's high rear fins cut down tail-wagging in the wind just as an airplane's vertical tail section prevents side-sway.

Wind or no wind, Chrysler's Torsion-Aire Ride makes the sharpest turns, the quickest stops, the roughest roads a breeze to take. No other fine car has this exclusive combination of torsion bars, rubber-isolated ball-joints, and outrigger rear springs. It gives you the comfort and safety of a luxury car with the "feel" and roadability of a sports car.

Combine this new kind of suspension with a up-to-325 horsepower engine, a satiny new pushbutton-operated Torque-Flite transmission, plus all the other 1957 improvements your Chrysler dealer will show you, and you'll agree—this is your car! Optional at extra cost

Chest Groups To Meet Here On March 26 To Discuss Merger

As a result of a resolution passed by the Board of Directors of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Community Chest at a meeting held last Thursday night, a special committee of the group will meet with a federation committee of the group to meet with a federal committee of the Norfolk Community Chest at a meeting to be held at the Cavalier Hotel on Tuesday, March 26.

County Court to Convene Three Times Weekly

PRINCESS ANNE—The County Court here will convene three times weekly beginning April 1. Judge J. Davis Reed Jr., judge of the court, said this week that Circuit Court Judge Floyd E. Kelam was expected to enter an order setting Wednesday afternoon as a third weekly session of the lower court.

The court now meets Monday and Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. The Wednesday session will be at the same hour.

Under the new schedule, Judge Reed said, only civil suits and juvenile and domestic relations cases will be heard Wednesday. Only criminal matters will be heard Monday and Friday.

Prior to the change, all three categories were heard at Monday and Friday sessions.

The new court day is an outgrowth of a conference between the two county judges Thursday afternoon. The county's Board of Supervisors several months ago suggested such action in order to relieve fire and safety hazards that exist in the overcrowded, second-floor courtroom.

The board also is preparing plans for a first floor courtroom adjacent to the building where the court is now located. The present courtroom will be used for office space.

Surf Queen Win Little League State Basketball Championship Sponsors Dance

The Virginia Beach Surf Queens ended Snow White's long domination of Virginia Women's Basketball by eliminating them in the semi-finals of the State Tournament played in Annapolis, near Washington, D.C.

Paced by Tony Dahn and Barbara Whitehead with 19 and 12 points respectively, and a tight man for man defense that kept the defending champions away from the basket, the Virginia Beach girls took charge in the second half and won 36-30 over a team that had previously beat them twice during regular season play.

This victory put the Surf Queens into the finals where they continued their fine tournament play to win 48-33 and annex their first state championship. Charlotte Marshall played a bang-up floor game and got 13 points. Tony Dahn poured in 24. McCarter led the losers with 13.

The championship marked a steady three year climb for the merchant sponsored sextette, since getting organized in the fall of 1954. In their first year of State AAU play, the Queens were eliminated by Snow White in the semi-finals and ended tournament play by losing the consolation Bracket Trophy. Last year, the Surf Queens looked as though they might make it but were edged 33-30 in the final game against Snow White, in a real thriller, so took the Runner-Up Trophy.

In this years match with the defending champions it looked like the same old story of too much experience as Snow White got off to an 11-7 first quarter lead. The Surf Queens slowed things down in the second quarter and playing possession ball pulled even at 16-16 by halftime. In the third quarter, the defense really went to work in the art of ball hawking and while holding the opponents to one single free throw, took a six point lead at the end of the quarter.

Proposed Rescue Squad Building

This is an artists' conception of a proposed headquarters building for the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad to be erected this spring on a parcel of land deeded to the squad by the City of Virginia Beach. Location for the building is directly behind the fire station at 20th Street and Arctic Avenue.

Plans for New Rescue Squad Building Released

The Virginia Beach - Princess Anne Rescue Squad announced today that construction is expected to begin within the next few weeks on a new headquarters building for the organization.

A spokesman for the group stated that the proposed new building has been in the planning stage for several years and is needed to meet the increased demands placed upon the Rescue Squad by the growth of the area it serves.

The building will be erected on a parcel of land deeded to the Rescue Squad by the City of Virginia Beach. The site is located in back of the present fire station at 20th Street and Arctic Avenue.

The new structure will be of cinder block construction with a brick facing. Space for six vehicles will be provided on the ground floor. The second floor will house offices, a meeting room and sleeping quarters.

When the building is completed the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad will have one of the finest headquarters buildings and the most modern rolling equipment of any such organization in Eastern Virginia.

F. W. Cox Rounding Out 24 Years In School Post

When Frank W. Cox, divisional superintendent for Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach City schools, begins a new four year term in that position on July 1, he will have completed 24 years as operating head of the county city school system here.

Superintendent Cox came to Princess Anne County from Giles County in 1933 to assume the duties as school superintendent. At that time the entire system employed a staff of 90 teachers with seven school plants and approximately 3500 pupils.

By contrast, today the Princess Anne - Virginia Beach public school system has a staff of 560 with 18 school plants and approximately 16,000 pupils. In addition to members of the staff there are 240 other employees of the system.

When Superintendent Cox became head of the school system the bus transportation was handled on a contract basis with 16 small buses being used to transport approximately 1800 pupils. Today the system owns and maintains 118 buses that transport approximately 14,000 pupils.

In 1933 the value of the school plants in operation was $450,000 while today that figure is $13,500,000. Nine million dollars has been spent in the past five years on new school plants. Of this amount the Federal Government has contributed $5,000,000 and $4,000,000 has been furnished through local bond issues and State funds.

Superintendent Cox begins his seventh year term as superintendent of this fast growing school system on July 1. Cox resides in Birdneck Point and is the father of a son, Frank W. Cox, Jr., and a daughter, Miss Lorraine Cox. Miss Cox is attending the College of William and Mary where she is preparing to become a teacher.

Will Leave, Norfolk Post To Come Here; Position Created By School Board

Elmer Tarrall, principal of the Granby High School in Norfolk, has been appointed assistant superintendent of public schools in charge of Virginia Beach City Schools, according to an announcement today by the City School Board.

Tarrall's appointment is effective on July 1 and he will have direct supervision of the Virginia Beach High School and the W.T. Cooke Elementary School. He will serve as assistant superintendent to Frank W. Cox, divisional superintendent for the Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach City school system.

The appointment of Tarrall fills the position recently created by the city school board. The duties to be assumed by Tarrall have heretofore been handled by members of the administrative staff of the school division.

Specific duties of Tarrall will be the supervision of instruction and the coordination and supervision of school plants and the operation of the two city schools. He will also serve as purchasing agent for the two city schools and will assist in procuring instructional personnel.

Offices of the new assistant superintendent of schools will be located in the Virginia Beach High School where the school board has maintained an office since the construction of the school plant.

Tarrall is a native of Norfolk where he attended local schools. He is a graduate of Duke University where he received a bachelor of arts degree and a master of education degree. He has also done additional graduate work at the University of Virginia.

Tarrall first served as a teacher in North Carolina high schools and served as principal of the Morgantown, North Carolina, elementary school. After that he served four years in the United States Army and was discharged in 1946 as a captain in the infantry.

After his Army service Tarrall taught and coached athletics for two years at Granby High School. After serving a year as principal of the Taylor Elementary school in Norfolk Tarrall was made assistant principal of Granby High School and in 1951 he was elevated to the principalship of that school. Killing Birds Disturbs Bay Colony Club

Bird lovers and particularly members of the Bay Colony Garden Club were shocked recently when it was reported that a member had discovered twelve small birds killed.

The startling discovery was reported by a member who said she found twelve small birds stuffed in her mail box strung together like a "string of fish."

It is believed, and rightly so, that these birds and others are being killed by youngsters who own BB or air rifles. The Bay Colony Garden Club has issued a plea to parents to caution youngsters not to kill these small birds who will grow in number as spring enters the scene.

The club noted that parents must accept the responsibility to put a halt to the killing of these small, young birds.

Report of P.O. Plan Disturbing

A report with some foundation is being circulated that the United States Post Office Department is considering the closing of the Creeds post office and other such facilities located in the lower part of Princess Anne County.

It is understood that residents of these localities have begun the circulation of petitions to prevent such a move by the post office department. It was not learned just which post offices would be affected should the department go through with the reported closing plans.

Bay Ferries Purchase LST For $375,000

NORFOLK, VA.—March 12.—The Chesapeake Bay Ferry Commission yesterday made payment of $375,000 to the MP&T Transportation Co. of New York for the former Navy LST which is to be converted for use on the Little Creek-Kiptopeke Run.

Purchase and conversion of the vessel was made possible after more than two-thirds of the Chesapeake Bay Ferry District bond holders approved a change in the trust indenture.

The LST has been towed to the Newport News Shipbuilding, Dry Dock Company where the conversion and modernization work is to start immediately.

The commission approved a contract with the ship yard yesterday for the conversion at a cost of $1,900,000. This will include outfitting and furnishings. Nolan C. Chandler, boss of the ferry operation, said he hopes to have the vessel in service by July 15. This will increase the number of vessels on the Little Creek-Kiptopeke run to six for the heavy traffic season this Jamestown festival year.

The commission also voted to prepare plans for lengthening the Potomac by the addition of 75 feet in the middle of the ferry vessel. This will increase the capacity of the boat to approximately 111 vehicles of average size. It is estimated by marine engineers that this would cost about one million dollars. Plans for the work on the Potomac are expected to be completed by May 15. Under this schedule the Potomac will go to a shipyard immediately after Labor Day and will be back in service in December for the holiday traffic. Early in 1958 the newly acquired LST will be assigned to the East-West service between Kiptopeke and Old Point Comfort for the re-establishment of that run.

Specifications for invitations to bid on the food concession on the ferries and at the terminals are being prepared and will be ready for qualified bidder by March 15th. The commission yesterday voted to ask for bids on the operation of the food concession.

Cancer Workshop Next Tuesday

There will be a cancer workshop meeting at the Virginia Beach Community House next Tuesday night starting at eight o'clock, according to an announcement by the Public Education Committee of the Princess Anne Unit of the American Cancer Society. The meeting is open to the public and anyone interested will be welcome. The meeting will be short with two brief films scheduled.

Adults in Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach are going to have an opportunity to get their first Salk polio shots this month, according to an announcement made today.

There will be clinics held on the nights of March 18 and 21 at four locations, the announcement stated. The shots are being sponsored by the Princess Anne Medical Society in cooperation with the County Health Department and civic clubs throughout the county and in Virginia Beach.

The schedule calls for clinics to be held from 7 to 9 p.m. at the following locations: March 18th—Virginia Beach High School, Princess Anne High School, Princess Anne Health Center at Princess Anne, and the Getstock Elementary School.

The same hours and locations will be in effect on March 21st, it was announced. The second shot will be made available in the same way one month from the date of the initial vaccination. A nominal charge of one dollar will be made.

Funds for the purchase of the vaccine is being furnished by the Princess Anne Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Fort Story Prepares for Festival April 26 and 28

FORT STORY, Va.—Contractors Paving Company of Norfolk has received the contract for a $9,000 project at Fort Story.

Joe H. High, of the National Park Service Headquarters in Yorktown, which awarded the contract, said the company's low bid was $9,157. The National Park Service was recently granted additional land by the Army to form a four-acre site around the Cape Henry Memorial Cross. The contract calls for the construction of concrete curbs and sidewalks and a reinforced concrete parking lot for 25 automobiles. In this area, the work is scheduled to begin immediately and is to be completed in approximately 30 days.

Other preparations are also planned for the observances of the landing of the colonists at Cape Henry, set for April 26 and 28. The National Park Service will plant shrubbery and grass around the memorial. The granite cross, located on the beach near the historic light houses on the Fort Story military reservation, marks the approximate site of the first landing there by English settlers on April 26, 1607.

Members of the Virginia Beach Little Theater will produce a memorial pageant on the grounds of Seashore State Park, also located on Cape Henry, on April 26. The pageant, written by Byron Hatfield, director of pageantry for the Jamestown Festival, will reenact — with the replicas of the three historic ships — the landing there of the colonists who later founded Jamestown, the first permanent English settlement in the new world. Mrs. W. Cary Pennington, of Virginia Beach, who will direct the pageant, said a planning meeting will be held in the near future.

On April 28, the Archbishop of Canterbury will be principal speaker at ceremonies at the cross marking the annual pilgrimage of the Order of Cape Henry — 1607

COLOR TV? "NOT YET"

SAYS PAUL HIRTZ

of

HIRTZ-TV SALES SERVICE

PHONE 2550

COLOR TV has received so much publicity and has offered so little to the public that we think it time to point out some of the reasons for saying "NOT YET."

After attending four Color TV schools I can say, color receivers are in a primitive state of development.

When a single gun color picture tube is available and production can be accomplished by a number of major producers; when the controls can be set and adjustments can be made by the set owners.

When the cost of color sets is in line with the number of programs available; When the installation and service problems are solved; then will we no longer say "NOT YET."

Being in the service business "up to our ears" so to speak, and selling major brands of black and white television we are alarmed at a number of manufacturers who are sacrificing quality in their sets.

Anyone buying a television today must; if he wishes to stay on speaking terms with his service man, and avoid what seems to be higher repair bills; purchase a set not stripped of the basic elements; not made of inferior parts. The Virginia Electronics Association is talking steps to protect the public from unethical service men. We believe the service industry is doing a fine job in spite of the difficulties they face.

NOTE: An uncorrected advertisement which was ran in the Virginia Beach Sun-News February 21 does not necessarily reflect the views of the Virginia Electronics Association.

Plans also are being made to utilize the county's 13 elementary schools as recreation centers on a year-around basis beginning the first of July. These will be available to these communities organizing recreation committees to be affiliated with the county Recreation Department. There will be no charge for the use of the school buildings.

The County Recreation Department also will employ specialists in arts and crafts and athletics in connection with the program.

VEPCO to Purchase Roanoke Island Utility Firm in Manteo

A new section along the Atlantic coast will be brought into the Virginia Electric and Power Company system with the purchase of the Roanoke Island Utility Company of Manteo, North Carolina, by Virginia Electric and Power Company.

Ray Goodman, Carolina Division Vice President, announced today that negotiations for the purchase of the Roanoke Island utility company from members of the Fearing family have been completed through W. B. Fearing, president. A new 30-year franchise is being sought from the Town of Manteo.

Upon completion of the sale, Vepco will put its standard system-wide rates into effect. Goodman said. The Town of Manteo will have the same rates as the larger towns and cities served by Vepco in North Carolina. This will result in substantial reductions in the cost of electricity to customers on Roanoke Island.

Final sale will be subject to approval by the North Carolina Utilities Commission, the Federal Power Commission, and other regulatory bodies in Virginia and West Virginia and approval of the franchise for the Town of Manteo.

The Roanoke Utilities Company has been buying its power from Vepco for a number of years, Goodman said. Prior to the 1930's, electric power was generated by diesel engines at Manteo.

Vepco plans the necessary rehabilitation of the distribution system to insure the standards of good service of the company.

Goodman said that Vepco has completed a high power transmission system near Nags Head, which will tie in with the Roanoke Island service. This and other improvements will strengthen the service and take care of present and future demands for electric service including large commercial customers.

Virginia Electric and Power Company now supplies power to all of northeastern North Carolina.

Roanoke Utilities Company was founded by Dr. E. P. Gales of Manteo and was sold by his son, Frank Gales, to the Fearing family in the 1920's. At that time, the Roanoke Utilities lines extended to Kill Devil Hills, but this part of the system was purchased by Vepco in the 1930's. At present it serves 875 customers on Roanoke Island.

Internal Revenue Service Announces Change in Procedure

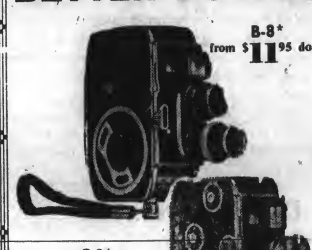

Checks or money orders in payment of any taxes due in filing 1956 Federal income tax returns should be made payable to the Internal Revenue Service, Mr. C. W. Glotzbach, District Director of the Richmond office of the tax agency, cautioned today.

For several years prior to 1956 such payments were made to the District Director of Internal Revenue. Many taxpayers, in filing their returns last year, failed to note the change of payee, Mr. Glotzbach said.

It was recognized that it was difficult to write either of the two titles previously used in the space normally provided on a check or money order. This, and a desire to obtain uniformity of designation, prompted the simplification, Mr. Glotzbach declared.

He again reminded taxpayers that the Federal tax agency dropped the title "Bureau of Internal Revenue" four years ago in favor of the new designation, "Internal Revenue Service." The change was one of several under a reorganization program designed to bring the most modern business methods and efficiency to bear on the annual collection of Federal revenue from more than 100 taxes—a total of more than $75 billion during the last fiscal year.

How come the new Ford rides so smooth and solid?

It's the new inner Ford that gives you a big-car ride at low Ford prices

• Folks just naturally love Ford's lower, sleeker silhouette. And they love Ford's new Thunderbird V-8's and Mileage Maker Six. But the thing that's really got 'em buzzing is Ford's new ride. In the new kind of Ford, vital riding features team up to give you the smoothest going in the whole ride world. For example:

- More weight and length
Head for the roughest road in the new kind of Ford. Notice how the biggest bumps lose their "hump"! One reason is that this biggest, longest, heaviest Ford has the extra "beef" to give a smooth, road-hugging ride.
- Better balance
One of Ford's nicest back-road habits is to make balance the rough spots aren't there. Proper weight distribution and precise balancing let Ford lean out bumps far better than most of the higher-priced cars.
- New automatic variable-rate rear springs
Going from a highway to a byway is a Ford, it's like going from soft to stiff. New design allows Ford's rear springs to "soften" or "stiffen" depending on road conditions. You get a smooth ride all the way!
- New swept-back Ball-Joint front suspension
Ford's new, stronger front suspension is designed to soak up the shock of rough roads. The new swept-back design lets wheels "roll" with the bump and absorb it going away... for far smoother, steadier sailing.
- More comfortable seating
There's no sag when you sit in a Ford... even on long trips. Comfort-contoured seats, rigidly anchored, have advanced springing for greater comfort and longer life.
- More body insulation
Ford has more body insulation—protection against weather, dust, and noise—than any car in the low-price field. You ride through city traffic in library-like quiet.
- No metal-to-metal chassis and body contact
Only Ford in its field uses 20 Cushion Quiet rubber body mounts... more than any other low-priced car. It adds up to a smoother, quieter riding car.

Try the new kind of ride in the new kind of FORD

EDITORIAL SPEAKING

Purpose Questionable

On March 6 a plea for a writ of mandamus was entered in the Princess Anne County Circuit Court by Attorney James E. Heath, on behalf of a county resident, W. W. Oliver, Jr., to inspect certain records of County Treasurer V. Alfred Etheridge's office. Heath is the candidate for the office of commonwealth's attorney defeated in the last primary election and Oliver was the candidate on the same ticket with Heath, who was defeated for the commissioner of revenue post.

This newspaper does not believe it proper to comment on the points involved here since the matter is still in the court's hands and is set for hearing on March 28. However, we do feel that brief comment may be made concerning the principle involved.

The Treasurer of Princess Anne County and the other officials were elected by overwhelming majorities and they have the confidence of the great majority of the people of the county. These officials are aware of their responsibility to the public. Among these responsibilities is to keep the public informed and to keep their records available for inspection by anyone entitled to see them. We are confident that this is being done and public officials should not be harassed for the purpose of political propaganda.

The officials have a responsibility to the public and the public has the responsibility to support them in their proper undertakings.

Twenty-Four Years Of Achievement

On July 1, 1957, Mr. Frank W. Cox will begin his seventh term as superintendent of public schools for Princess Anne County and the City of Virginia Beach. He will have completed 24 years of consecutive service in that post.

During the 24 years that Mr. Cox has served the county-city school system remarkable progress has been made and the smooth-functioning system as we have it today is a distinct credit to the administrative ability and the efforts of this veteran educational career man.

Mr. Cox can look back over the years with pride and probably of many reminders of problems he faced in building the school system into its present size and scope.

Mr. Cox came to Princess Anne in 1933 when the entire staff of the school system numbered 90 persons. At that time there were seven school plants and 16 buses used to transport some 1800 pupils. Today the system employs 800 persons, has 16 school plants, operates 118 buses and transports approximately 14,000 pupils.

The 24 years that Mr. Cox has devoted to his position can be looked upon as years of achievement and progress for which the citizens of Princess Anne and Virginia Beach can justly be proud. The fact that Mr. Cox has been reappointed for another four years at the helm of our school system is gratifying in that we can look forward to even more progress in the field of education with a public official of this type on the job.

A Step Backward

If the report concerning the contemplated closing of certain post offices in the lower portion of Princess Anne County is true we feel that this would be a backward step in a period of progress.

The initial report indicated that the Creed's post office might be closed along with others in that general area and we assume the post office department's thinking is that it would be an economy move on its part.

Assuming that the report of this contemplated move on the part of the Post Office Department is true and assuming that the reason is economical we must express our disapproval of such a plan.

Post offices are community undertakings and are the center of community life. We do not believe that this is the proper way to affect economy and believe that the post office department should consider the real ways to economize. It should not economize at the expense of disrupting the life of a community or locality.

Certainly the thought of closing post offices in a growing and expanding area such as Princess Anne County does not make good sense on the face of it.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

Our Resources Are Twofold

(Petersburg Progress-Index)

The announcement by the State Department that it has invited 27 powers to attend an International Naval Review is another indication of the attractions which the Jamestown celebration is directly and indirectly, bringing to pass.

The State Department says, "The review is part of an eight-month celebration by the Federal Government and the Commonwealth of Virginia of the 350th anniversary of the founding of the American Colonies."

As well as giving cause for thanks that the correct history of the nation's birth has reached as far as Washington, even if not New England, this account is gratifying as an indication of the attitude that organizations outside the state have toward the Jamestown celebration. Often when an affair is much prepared and publicized those close to it come to see it far larger than it appears to the outsider.

The statement that the review is part of the Virginia celebration was made in the State Department's publication "Foreign Policy Briefs," which seeks to be "an aid to wider public understanding" of what the department is doing and in general its side of any particular question. It is based on government statements, reports and documents.

The June 8-17 review will probably be one of the high spots during the celebration, just as the visit of elements of the French fleet to Yorktown in 1931 was a memorable part of that sesquicentennial. It is also a reminder of the natural blessing the state possesses in Hampton Roads harbor.

That both the natural and the resources given us by accident of history are being acknowledged, utilized and appreciated at home as well as out-of-state, is as gratifying as it is proper.

SATURDAY IN SUBURBIA

Girl Scouts All Over The United States Are Celebrating Forty-Fifth Birthday

Everywhere in the United States, Girl Scouts are celebrating their forty-fifth birthday.

On March 12, 1912, in Savannah, Georgia, Juliette Low started the first troop with just a few girls. Now we are two and three-quarters million strong.

Our theme for Girl Scout Week this year is "Girl Scouts, A Family Affair." We hope to interest more mothers and especially fathers in our wonderful movement. It's such fun to have our parents interested in scouting and to share in our many activities.

Each day this week has a different meaning to us. Sunday is Girl Scout Sunday. Monday is Citizenship Day. Tuesday is Citizenship Day. Wednesday - Health and Safety Day. Thursday - International Friendship Day. Friday - Arts and Crafts Day. Saturday - Out of Doors Day.

There is an exhibit in the Bank of Virginia Beach's Drive in Bank on 31st Street. This shows a few of our activities and craft work. We hope you will drive in to see our exhibits.

During this week we collect our pennies, one for each year of our life, for the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund. This is a world fund and is used to promote Scouting in other countries.

Two neighborhood rallies are planned for scouts and their families. The Virginia Beach Rally will be at the Virginia Beach High School on March 22 at 8:00 P. M. There will be an interesting program with many of us Scouts participating. After the program there will be an exhibit in the library and refreshments will be served.

Ocean's Rally will be on March 16, beginning at 2 P. M. in the Ocean's School.

Later other districts will have their own neighborhood rallies. These rallies are to get all the Scouts together, from Brownies to Seniors. At this time all the awards are presented. Many Scouts will receive the highest award. The Curved Bar, First Class Badges and five and ten year pins will be presented too.

As Girl Scouts, we have ten laws. This is the code by which we try to live. These laws should be used daily in every Girl Scout's life, in all she does at home, school and play.

1. A Girl Scout's honor is to be trusted.
2. A Girl Scout is loyal.

3. A Girl Scout's duty is to be useful and to help others.

4. A Girl Scout is a friend to all and a sister to every other Girl Scout.

5. A Girl Scout is courteous.

6. A Girl Scout is a friend to animals.

7. A Girl Scout obeys orders.

8. A Girl Scout is cheerful.

9. A Girl Scout is thrifty.

10. A Girl Scout is clean in thought, word, and deed.

It is our hope and dream that Girl Scouting will continue to grow, that many, many more girls will learn to live by our laws. Knowing, too, the full meaning of our three part Promise:

On my honor, I will try:
To do my duty to God and my country,
To help other people at all times,
To obey the Girl Scout Laws.

The accomplishments of the past year, as reported at the annual adult dinner meeting are as follows:

Membership 199 girls, 785 Scouts Total 964; Neighborhood and District Rallies; Intermediate and Brownie Basic Course; Advanced Training; Area Arts and Crafts; Music Institute; Served Needlework Guild; 1st Place in Area Photo Contest; Attended Regional Conference; Proudly we presented our new neighborhood, "Diamond Springs".

GOALS: Active Neighborhood Service Teams; Strengthen Senior Scouting; Adult Recruitment, especially fathers; Promote Camp Training.

Our Adult Princess Anne District Committee members are: Mrs. Henry Hedley, Chairman; Mrs. Sterling M. Farley, Co-Chairman; Mrs. Stuart Conrad, Sec. Treas.; Mrs. H. W. Newsome, Training Chairman, Jr. Troop; Mrs. John Tucker, Coordinator; Mrs. Lewis Smith, Publicity Chairman; Mrs. Glenn I. Dill, Birthplace Chairman; Mrs. J. C. Brady, Juliette Low Chairman; Mrs. J. D. Gregory, Kempeville Chairman; Mrs. R. M. Simmons, Oceana Chairman; Mrs. John Gross, Diamond Springs Chairman; Mrs. Paul Dolgins, Virginia Beach Chairman; Mrs. Lyle Reed, Bay-side Chairman; Dr. Katherine Hill and Mrs. George Bush, Members at Large.

We must also pause to thank all our friends in schools, churches, community centers, newspapers, T. V. and radio stations, civic clubs, etc., who, in the past year, have helped us as Scouts. Their helping hands along the way have truly helped to smooth the road along which we have travelled.

Most of all, we want to thank our leaders, who so willingly give their time, patience, and loving hearts to us, the Girl Scouts of Princess Anne County.

KITCHEN BUFFET DANCE
A kitchen buffet dance will be held on Saturday, March 30 at the Princess Anne Country Club. It will be "Open House Nite" in the newly done-over kitchen and pantry area. Dancing and cocktails from 5:30 to 8:30 o'clock will precede the buffet dinner served from the kitchen range and table will be banquet style in the dining room.
March 17 will be another Sunday night buffet.

A. R. E. Dream Lecture Sunday

Another in the Winter series of lectures given by the Association for Research and Enlightenment will be presented Sunday at 4 p.m. at A.R.E. headquarters when again a large and interested audience is anticipated.

The series has proven unusually successful this winter, and has introduced the work of the A. R. E. to many newcomers to Tidewater, and to others who heretofore have been unaware of the Association.

Mrs. Nayan Warner, receptionist at the headquarters building which is located at 5th Street and Atlantic Avenue, will present the lecture Sunday, and will deal with the subject of dreams. She continues this month's forum on that topic, and will present a study of dream interpretation based on the research by the outstanding leaders in psychology of this day, Karl Jung, Freud, and Adler. Her topic will be "Nothing But a Dream."

Mrs. Warner will present further the understanding of dreams as is given in the psychic readings of the late Edgar Cayce, famed clairvoyant who made his home at Virginia Beach. The A.R.E. is a non-profit organization based on the many thousands of psychic readings given by Edgar Cayce during his lifetime.

This month, speakers have been Noah Miller, of Norfolk; and William N. Petersen, of Virginia Beach. The topic of dreams will be presented in varying aspects the remaining two Sundays in March, and will be followed by the theme "The Physical Body" during April.

All lectures are intended to be enjoyed by the general public, and are held at the headquarters.

In the last quarter the teams matched points at 13 each, but it was too late for the Lauderettes and the Surf Queens were safely in the finals.

An interesting sidelight of this game is the fact that Coach John Tucker was at the head of the Snow White team when it won its first two championships in 1952 and 1953. In 1952 the team was known as the Demons and sponsored by merchants as is now the case of Tucker's Surf Queens.

The Wings of Eagles To Play at Beach Theater Next Week

The story of one of the great modern heroes of naval aviation is brought to the screen in "The Wings of Eagles," directed by four-time Academy Award winner John Ford, and starring John Wayne, Dan Dailey and Maureen O'Hara.

Filmed in color, much of the footage shot on location in Pensacola, Florida, and with other sequences photographed aboard the huge aircraft carrier, USS Philippine Sea, 100 miles off the Pacific Coast, "The Wings of Eagles" recreates the dramatic and exciting career of the late Commander Frank (Spig) Wed.

A real action picture, "The Wings of Eagles" tells the story of the life of the late Commander Frank (Spig) Wed, a hero of World War II.

The flying records Wed smashed with his last mission, the screen plays he wrote him the respect of his fellow writers in Hollywood. His courage and imagination of a nation Ford, in spite of seemingly insurmountable physical obstacles, he aided in turning the tide of history's most monumental conflict. During World War II, although he could scarcely hobble on two canes, he led to stand on the deck of an air-craft carrier.

The South Pacific and see his dreams of air power come true. The role of "Spig" Wed is played by John Wayne. Dan Dailey is cast as his Navy mechanic pal; Maureen O'Hara as Mrs. Wed.

Ward Bond co-stars in the role of a Hollywood director, who in real life was none other than Director John Ford.

The screen play of "The Wings of Eagles" was written by Frank Fenton and William Winter Haines. The picture was produced by Charles Schneer, the producer of "Somebody Up There Likes Me."

Puerto Rico was discovered by Columbus in 1493, and Ponce de Leon founded a settlement there in 1510.

The town of Emmett is in the State of Minnesota but its railroad station is in Iowa.

The MIXING BOWL..
 IT'S Fun TO COOK
 By LUCILE CLARK
 SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and fables... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile. Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

In ancient times, the spice cinnamon was worth many times its weight in gold or precious gems. Today, it costs but a few cents in any food store, but for those who know it intimately, it still is a mighty valuable culinary treasure.

Cinnamon's warm, sweet-pungency of taste and alluringly spicy fragrance add extra deliciousness to all sorts of dishes — from breakfast cereals & toast to party desserts. It has an exhilarating influence on practically all fruits including the humble prune & bland banana. But in no fruit cinnamon combination does it perform better than with apples. Good cooks know that cinnamon is the flavor soul of such favorites as apple pie, cobbler, cake or dumplings.

The history of cinnamon, one of the oldest spices, dates back to 27 centuries before Christ when it was known in China. Early Arabian traders brought it to Europe & to keep its market price "bullish," they told tall tales about hazards of gathering the cinnamon tree's bark. One story was that the trees grew on an island in the center of a mysterious lake guarded by huge birds, ferocious as the dragons of mythology. The traders claimed they had to perform death-defying feats to lure the birds away from the trees.

We use cinnamon in two forms in this country — the ground & the cinnamon bark gull or stick. Ground cinnamon is favored for baking & seasoning desserts. Among the uses of stick cinnamon are in the making of sweet pickles & as a flavor imparting muddier for such beverages as iced tea or hot chocolate.

The American Spice Trade Association sent me a book on "Boices - What they are & where they come from" - so I'm going to quickly tell you a little bit about Cassia (China Cassia). Cinnamonum Cassia Situm - Sound strange - doesn't it?

The dried bark of an evergreen tree of the laurel family, Cassia is related to cinnamon & is used as cinnamon in this country. The trade designation for rolled bark is quills. China Cassia native to China & Burma - is reddish brown - thick coarse bark with gray rough patches. Quills are from 12 to 24 inches in length.

Sargon Cassia - Native to China & also grown in French Indo-China. It is grayish-brown, has thinner bark, long ridges, bumps & scars marking branch joints. Quills are from 6 to 12 inches in length. Cassia & Cinnamon are botanically identical, although grown in different places. Cassia is used in this country as cinnamon because its flavor is stronger. Here are some different ways of using cinnamon - I think - but the American Spice Trade Association says - they're good.

HOG PRICES DUE TO BE ABOVE LAST YEAR'S

Hog prices during most and maybe all of this year are likely to be above those of 1956, says S. H. Carter, assistant agricultural economist at VPI.

The year-end inventory of hogs nearing slaughter weight has been reduced, Carter reports. Last year's fall pig crop was down 4 percent, and producers plan to reduce this spring's crop 2 percent. The reduction will be divided about equally between early and late turnings according to present intentions. This suggests that hog slaughter during most or all of 1957 will remain below last year. However, by the end of the difference will be small.

Prices of hogs have improved considerably from the mid-November low, and may go up a little more during the winter. A downturn is expected when marketings from the fall pig are heaviest, but a new seasonal upturn is likely in the spring.

Consumers will have around 83 pounds of pork to eat in 1957 compared with 86 pounds in each of the last two years. Even though they will pay higher prices than in 1956, they will pay less than a few years ago. Competition from other meats, especially beef and poultry, will be keen, Carter says.

BRIGHT FUTURE PREDICTED FOR FARM YOUTH IN WORK RELATED TO AGRICULTURE

Jobs in fields related to agriculture are multiplying rapidly, and many young people from farm areas are being drawn into these new positions, says VPI's dean of agriculture, E. B. Dietrick.

On a national average there are now 168 young farm men to every 100 farmers who die or reach retirement age. As a result, almost 40 percent of the boys growing up on farms are expected to seek employment outside the farm when they reach manhood.

Many new positions are available for these young men. For example, there will be two jobs waiting this year for almost every graduate in agriculture from land-grant colleges and universities—15,000 job openings for some 8,500 graduates. These jobs include positions in teaching, research, extension, communications, conservation, farm services, and others.

Many jobs related to agriculture are available also for those who don't have a college education. They include work in industry, trucking, artificial breeding, repair and servicing of farm machinery, fruit spraying, airplane dusting, etc.

The increase in off-farm employment opportunities has accompanied the national decrease in numbers of farms. There are about 1.6 million fewer commercial farms today than there were 25 years ago.

Family farms still account for about 98 percent of all commercial farms (those on which the farmer's main source of income is from farming) and produce two-thirds of all farm output. Many of the farms, however, are too small to take full advantage of new techniques, Dean Dietrick says. It has been estimated that if the best modern farming methods were used, about a third of family farms could not provide full-time work for one able-bodied operator. But with the increasing number of off-farm jobs now available, young people no longer needed on farms have better employment opportunities than ever before.

NEW FENCING FILM AVAILABLE FOR SHOWING

Construction of a long-lasting, easily built farm fence is shown

In detail in a new movie now available from VPI.

Filmed at the VPI agricultural engineering farm, the movie "Fencing for the Future" puts emphasis on the use of long-lasting posts and wire, and the latest and best known methods of bracing posts and stretching and attaching the wire.

Another VPI film dealing with a related subject is "Save with Treated Posts." It shows the methods of preserving fence posts. Requests for the films should be routed through county agricultural agents.

Wool growers

Wool growers participating in the 1956 incentive payment program are put on notice by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service that applications for payment must be filed with the local ASC county office not later than April 30, 1957.

The wool program regulations, W. T. Powers, State Administrative Officer, explained, require that applications for payment be filed within 30 days after the closing of the marketing year. The 1956 marketing year for shorn wool and lambs ends March 31, 1957.

Powers explained that any applications presented for payment after April 30 must be received by the local ASC county committee before they can be accepted for payment.

Airlines estimate that about 25 per cent of their income is spent for maintenance.

NEWS FOR AND ABOUT VETERANS

Harry F. Carper, Jr., Director of the Division of War Veterans' Claims, in agency operated solely by the State of Virginia, under the jurisdiction of our Attorney General, the honorable J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., of Richmond, announced from his Roanoke office in the Veterans Administration Building information that is important to widows and children of men who died after January 1, 1957 as a result of service in the Armed Forces. Carper stated:

"While looking over the new form for applying for benefits payable to the widows and children of men who die after January 1, 1957 in active service or of a service connected cause, I was struck by the fact that some points of the new law are still obscure. When the last Congress provided increased compensation and added Social Security coverage for the survivors of active duty personnel, the Pentagon frankly stated that it was intended to induce more persons to make careers of service in the armed forces. The law specifies that there shall be only one application for the new Indemnity Compensation and for Social Security, and that there will be complete coordination between the VA and Social Security so that proofs of marriage, births, etc. need not be duplicated. Because the definition of widow, child, and dependent parent are not quite the same under the laws of the two agencies, there may be difficulty of coordination not foreseen by Congress.

One of the little known breaks for the survivors of servicemen, or of veterans who die of service connected causes after January 1, 1957, is fully insured status under Social Security. All coverage the deceased may have achieved through civilian or military employment will be considered but a serviceman dies before he is fully insured, Social Security will compute and pay such benefits as he may have achieved and the VA will pay enough to make up a minimum of $52.90 for a widow, $109.80 for a widow and one child, and $123.00 for a widow and two or more children. For example, a serviceman dies after having attained coverage of only $90.00 a month for his surviving widow and two children. Social Security will pay the $90.00 and the VA will make up the additional $38 to reach the "basic" $128.00 monthly.

Indemnity Compensation paid by the VA is in addition to the Social Security payments. Payments of Social Security to the widow will stop when the children reach 18 unless she is then at least 62 years of age, but the VA Indemnity Compensation will not cease unless the widow dies or remarries."

Moore's regular itinerary to the Beach area is between 11:00 A.M. and 3:00 P.M. every second and fourth Thursday each month. Moore can be located at the Community House at 19th Street and Arctic Avenue. His next trip will, therefore, be on February 28 and March 14 and 28.

Democracy in action is proving useful as a new weapon against mental illness in 30 Veterans Administration hospitals.

Dr. S. T. Ginsberg, chief of the psychiatry division at VA central office in Washington, D. C., said patient representatives elected and organized under democratic principles give patients a voice in the management of their affairs at the hospitals.

VA psychiatrists have found this "patient government" useful in the treatment of mental illness because of the self-development, the cooperation, and the acceptance of responsibility it fosters, Dr. Ginsberg said.

Dr. Ginsberg said patient-governments in VA hospitals are mainly of two types:

1. Patients on a ward elect several of their members as a council to represent the ward in joint meetings with members of the hospital staff.

2. Patients organize as an overall group along the lines of a community citizens' association, with a constitution and by-laws and periodic meetings presided over by elected officers.

These patient - governments operate in planning recreation for patients, establishing ward regulations for patients' conduct, assigning housekeeping duties, recommending disciplinary measures, welcoming new patients and many other activities, Dr. Ginsberg said.

Q—My State gives a bonus to Korea veterans. May I apply for it through the VA?

A—No. VA does not administer State bonuses. You should file your application with your State, not with VA.

Q—I am planning to sell my GI home and allow the buyer to take over the GI loan. When should I apply to VA for release from liability to the Government—before or after I sign the sales contract?

A—You should apply to VA for release from liability before you sign the contract. In that way, you will know whether the buyer is eligible to assume your liability before you commit yourself to sell.

Q—Could I take a correspondence course under the War Orphans education program?

A—No. The law prohibits correspondence training. War Orphans education must be taken in the school or college classroom.

According to figures compiled by Nation's Business, consumption of alcoholic beverages in this country reached a peak of 6.2 per cent of total consumer expenditures in 1944, gradually dropping to 3.6 per cent in 1955. A further drop to 2.5 per cent is expected by 1965.

PROBLEM SOLVED

FORT STORY, Va.—The Ocean Park Volunteer Fire Department and the Army teamed up to solve a problem this week.

The department protects territory on both sides of Lynnhaven Inlet. And, when the Leamer Bridge on Route 60 is closed on Monday morning, it looked as if a large area would be cut off from fire protection.

Deputy Chief Walter E. Pavey took his problem to Fort Story. And the Army Transportation Corps soldiers took to it like ducks take to water. In fact, that's exactly what happened.

Two DUKW's (pronounced "ducks"), the Army's 2 1/2-ton swimming trucks, and their crews were lent to the department until the bridge is back in working order. The men, from the 461st Amphibious Truck Company — nicknamed "The Barracudas" — brought their own food and cooking gear and are living at the fire station on the Norfolk side of the inlet.

Heavy equipment is stationed on either side of the bridge site. So, when an alarm is received, the firemen have only to leap on the DUKW's with their hand equipment. The amphibious vehicles will take them across the inlet to their waiting equipment, and they'll be on their way to the fire without delay.

TRI-FAITH WEEK

1957 Tri-Faith Religious Emphasis Week will be observed at Fort Story on April 7-12.

Services for the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths have been planned to help servicemen renew their convictions.

The Rev. Albert Van Nuffelen, a priest of the Congregation of the Immaculate Heart of Mary and a veteran of many years of mission work in the Philippines, will be visiting speaker for the Catholic services.

Guest speakers for the other faiths will be announced as arrangements are completed.

NCO WIVES

The Non-Commissioned Officers Wives Club at Fort Story — inactive for several months — is planning a St. Patrick's Day party as the first of a number of projects designed to revitalize the club, according to Mrs. Norman Zutavern, club secretary.

Mrs. James S. Havid is president of the organization, which is planned to stimulate social life among the wives of club members.

Fort Story's NCO Club is open to all rated servicemen and wives in this area.

INCENTIVE AWARDS

More than $1,500 was saved by the suggestions of four civilian employees at Fort Story.

Honored at recent ceremonies in the NIKE Field Maintenance Shop at the Cape Henry post were William J. Carr, Jr., of 862 Burkdale Road in Norfolk; Herbert J. Harlow, 212 Claudia Drive, Bayside; Kenneth W. Easter, Route 2, Box 245, Lynnhaven; and John C. McCollum, Route 2, Box 89, London Bridge.

Carr received three separate awards for different ideas he had submitted to the Incentive Awards Committee at Fort Story. The incentive awards program is devised by the Army to encourage the development of ideas and inventions among its personnel and civilian employees. Awards are presented for ideas which are able to be put into practice.

Carr's suggestions included a new way of cooling an air compressor engine, a plan to keep the legs of the missile booster and joining hoist from splitting due to freezing, and a support frame for the after section of the NIKE guided missile to be used during disassembly. William O. Zacharias of the Letterkenny Ordnance Depot at Fort Clinton, Ohio, also contributed to this idea and received a cash award.

Harlow's suggestion improved lighting on Ordnance test equipment without requiring modification of the fittings.

Easter and McCollum designed an adaption for the guidance and control section dolly to form a movable platform which would put test equipment at the workman's level.

SIGNAL

Captain Richard W. Bricker assumed duties as post signal officer last week. Major James A. McCaffrey, who has been signal officer at Fort Story since 1953, has been ordered to duty in France.

McCaffrey was specially honored during a ceremony observing the change-over to a dial telephone system on the post last Friday.

A large sheet of letters of appreciation from on-post personnel and civilian communications agencies were presented to McCaffrey just before he left the post.

Colonel George E. Woods, Jr., commanding officer of Fort Story, cut a ribbon symbolizing the opening of a new 600-line automatic electric switchboard. He then made the first official call after the 10 p. m. changeover to his wife in their quarters.

Work began last September on the conversion to dial telephones, which will provide savings to the government in both time and money, McCaffrey said. The change-over was accomplished during a slack period to avoid inconvenience.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE

Planning has started on the 30th annual Easter Sunrise Service to be held at the Cape Henry Memorial Cross on April 21, according to Chaplain (First Lieutenant) William W. Owen.

An estimated 2,000 persons are expected to attend the 5:30 a. m. services at the marker on the Fort Story military reservation which commemorates the approximate site of a worship service held by the first settlers to land at Cape Henry in 1607.

Fort Story's Protestant Chaplain and the Princess Anne County Ministerial Alliance are co-operating in the planning of the service.

BOND DRIVE

A special United States Savings Bond Drive is being conducted at this Cape Henry post through March 22.

Major W. P. Freigh is Savings Bonds Officer for the post and First Lieutenant John P. Miron is in charge of the drive, which opened March 11.

SCHOOL FLAGS

Representatives of the Fifth Transportation Battalion, Command B at Fort Story joined with American Legion Post 113 in Virginia Beach recently to present American flags to students of the newly-constructed Thalia School.

An officer and 20 enlisted men from the 376th Transportation Battalion participated in the ceremonies on March 8.

The American Legion and Fort Story have cooperated on other similar presentations in the past.

SPEAKER

Lieutenant Colonel E. A. P. McCarthy, Jr., commanding officer of the 376th Transportation Battalion spoke before the Norfolk Optimists Club Tuesday. His subject was "Army Transportation Corps Amphibious Operations."

A graduate of Clemson, McCarthy has held several command positions at Fort Story. Known as "the home of the trucks that swim," this tiny Transportation Corps post conducts all of the Army's amphibious truck training. McCarthy and his family reside at 218 Mill Dam Road in London Bridge.

OFF-POST

Participating in two off-post events is scheduled for this weekend.

An Army Transportation Corps display will be presented at the U. S. Naval Amphibious Base at Little Creek, Virginia, in honor of the Navy's Amphibious Forces' birthday. The display will be part of an open house at Little Creek on March 16.

Four DUKW's will participate in a Veterans of Foreign Wars parade in Newport News. The march is scheduled to begin at 7 p. m. on March 15.

UNIT RETURNS

Special welcoming ceremonies, with many families present, greeted the 344th Amphibious Truck Company as it returned to Fort Story from France last weekend.

The unit left the Cape Henry post last January to participate in NODEX (New Over-The-Shore Discharge Exercise) 13, a training exercise which has just concluded in Europe. The 344th, commanded by First Lieutenant William A. Schilling, operated DUKW's in supply operations there. Five officers, 17 non-commissioned officers and 96 other enlisted men took part.

Look who upset the "Low-price" Applecart!

This one's had them rubbing their eyes ever since it landed smack in the middle of the "low-price" field! The handsome rebel you see right here is upsetting tradition right and left on what a modest budget should buy. It's pricing a big 122-inch wheelbase right down with cars from four to seven inches shorter! It's adding a big bonus of extra road-hugging heft—and powering it with an all-new 347 cu. in., 10 to 1 compression ratio Strato-Streak V-8 for highest horsepower per pound in the field! A lot of might and muscle for sure—but it's gentled like nothing else on the road by Pontiac's exclusive Level-Line Ride and Precision-Touch Controls. And remember—the Chieftain's standards of luxury and quality were set by the same men who gave America the incomparable Custom Star Chief Catalinas. What we're leading up to is this: If smaller cars have gotten you down, you can actually buy a Chieftain Pontiac for less than 30 models of the "low-price three"! Zoning Matter In Cape Story Area May Go To Court

Several delegations appeared at last Monday's Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors meeting at Princess Anne to oppose the construction of a gasoline service station in a residential area of Cape Story-by-the-Sea.

The Board of Supervisors voted not to reopen the question since a rezoning request had previously been approved. The delegation indicated it would take the matter into the Princess Anne Circuit Court. The delegation was headed by Mrs. Leonard Abbott, Mrs. M. C. Tavenner and Ray M. Newton.

Spokesmen said they had not seen advertised notice of Abbot's petition; that the proposed rezoning would be in the midst of a 10-lot residential area; that the residents had purchased their homes with the understanding that the area would continue to be zoned for residence until 1957, and that depreciation of values would follow rezoning to business.

A spokesman for the Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County also opposed the rezoning. She said the council's efforts are directed toward improving and beautifying the approaches to Seashore State Park and the Cape Henry Landing site, and that filling stations so close to the area of their interest would be detrimental.

The Lynnhaven Inlet Civic League and residents of the Cape

Henry Syndicate also strongly opposed the rezoning.

The board approved the appointment of Mrs. Zilse Beasley to replace Mrs. Rosaleen Simpson as supervisor of public welfare for the county. Mrs. Beasley has been with the department since 1953. Before that she taught in the Norfolk County schools.

The board approved the change from Residential Duplex to Limited Commercial an area on the south side of Virginia Beach boulevard between the Virginia Beach Drive-In Theater and the Military Highway overpass for a farm market.

It referred back to the Planning Commission applications to build a filling station on the Military Highway 150 feet north of the Elizabeth River Way Park.

The board also granted these requests:

Atlantic Refining Co. to build a gasoline supply station on Shore Drive and 22nd Street, East Ocean View.

Virginia Electric and Power Co. to build a transformer substation on Holly Avenue and Great Neck Road on Route 616.

A use permit for a motel at Poplar Hall on the Military Highway and Peble Lane.

A use permit for the construction of a repair garage on Diamond Springs Road near the Virginia Truck Experiment Station.

A change from Residence 2 to Limited Commercial a section at Pleasure House and Hollis roads near Shore Drive.

New Women's Apparel Store Opens Today

A new women's apparel store opens today in Virginia Beach at 2010 Atlantic Avenue when the Town and Country Ladies Apparel shop opens its doors for the first time.

The new store is located on Atlantic Avenue near the corner of 15th Street and is headed by Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Jaffe, who are well known in business circles throughout Tidewater Virginia.

The Jaffes have operated a chain of furniture stores in Tidewater Virginia and have been in business in Suffolk for a number of years. They have also operated Town and Country shops in various cities of Tidewater Virginia and Eastern North Carolina.

"We will feature fine ladies fashions at reasonable prices," Mr. Jaffe said. He also indicated charge accounts would be arranged.

Mr. Jaffe has had widespread business experience and is equally well known for his civic work. He is a member of the State Board of the Virginia Society for Crippled Children, a member of the Suffolk Kiwanis Club and has been very active in the Boys Town, Nebraska.

Fashion Show March 29th

The fashion show "Sun and Fun Fashions" to be presented March 29 by the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113 at the American Legion Club on Laskin Road will not be for ladies only, according to plans released this week.

Included in the lineup of models will be several outstanding members of the male sex of Virginia Beach. They will model the latest men's fashions from Alexander-Begles, of Virginia Beach.

The male models listed for the show include Roger Malbon, William P. Kellam, George Garvin, Littleton Walker, John C. Bradburn, F. M. Durham, A. F. H. H. L. Lam.

The feminine models will be Mrs. A. J. Flaconio, Mrs. L. S. Abouneess, Mrs. Edward Schoen, Mrs. Hugh Owens, Mrs. William McCoy, Miss Ann Dove, Mrs. William P. Kellam and Mrs. J. W. Seale. They will model clothes from Paula's.

The show is scheduled to begin at 8:30 p.m. and music will be furnished by the Starliners from Princess Anne High School.

"SERVING VIRGINIA'S FASTEST GROWING COUNTY"

Giving Blood Is Simple Matter

William Ferrell seems to be indicating that there is nothing to giving a pint of blood in the above picture. The scene is at a past bloodmobile visit to Virginia Beach and is expected to be reenacted many times next Monday when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visits the Virginia Beach Community House. The hours of giving are from 12 o'clock until 6 p. m. Blood donors are urged to be present during those hours.

Bloodmobile Will Visit Here Monday; Hours 12-6 P.M.

"Think awhile - the life you save may be your child's" is the slogan adopted for the next visit of the Tidewater Regional Red Cross Bloodmobile to Princess Anne County. The children of all the local schools will be taking fliers to their parents explaining the need for blood from childhood through the years. If a child is born an RBC baby, a complete transfusion is necessary immediately. The mother may hemorrhage at childbirth and blood transfusions are given at this time.

Measle shots given to children after they have been exposed are made from two pints of donated blood. Blood transfusions are used in many cases of severe burns in children and adults. Many times blood is needed after a tonsilectomy if there is any excessive bleeding. Bicycle accidents of all kinds may result in the patient needing blood transfusions.

Blood is available free to all Princess Anne County residents wherever hospitalized in the U. S. as long as people who are able take their turn at donating and thereby keep the Blood Bank supplied. There is an administration charge by the hospitals and a small transportation and container fee for the blood. There is no charge for the blood itself. Everyone has 12 pints of blood and the one pint donated is rebuilt within 24 hours. Volunteer doctors and nurses are in attendance and check everyone before they donate. Anyone between the ages of 18 and 90 can donate. Unmarried persons under 21 must have written consent of a parent. It takes about 45 minutes to donate.

The Bloodmobile will be at the Community House, 18th and Arctic, Virginia Beach, on Monday, March 25th from noon to six o'clock. For free transportation call the Red Cross office at Virginia Beach 938. There are baby strollers at the Community House all during the visit.

The Civic Club has offered a prize to the classroom at Cooke School, Linkhorn Park School and Oceana Elementary that secures the most blood donors.

The Junior Citizens have placed many interesting posters about town in an effort to bring new donors to the Bloodmobile visit. Princess Anne County's quota has increased from 100 to 110 pints as a result of a request from the National Department of Federal and Civilian Defense. This department feels it necessary to keep a stock pile on hand for emergencies.

Beach Seeks Granby Coach For Mat Team

Virginia Beach High School officials have reported that they have made an offer to Norfolk's Granby High School wrestling coach, Billy Martin, to join the athletic department here and that they expect an answer from the highly successful mat coach by Friday.

Martin, admitted earlier in the week that he had been approached by the Virginia Beach school, and that he was to give his answer by Friday.

John... indicated that should Martin accept the offer he would head the school's physical education department, handle intermural sports and coach the wrestling team.

Two new coaches have already been secured for Virginia Beach next year. George Tepo has been named to replace Fred Isaacs as football coach and athletic director, and Robert Coulthard will take over the basketball duties previously handled by Isaacs.

At Granby High School Martin has enjoyed phenomenal success with his wrestling teams. He has produced several State champions.

Martin indicated that "he had a hard decision to make."

When word first leaked out that Martin may come to the local school the news was met with enthusiasm. Martin would be a great asset to the local scene, it is felt, and many followers of the school are hopeful he will accept the position.

Randolph Named Asst. Cashier

Alfred M. Randolph has been appointed an assistant cashier of the Bank of Virginia Beach and has been named manager of the Atlantic Avenue branch of the bank, according to an announcement made this week by E. H. Church, president.

Randolph will take over the managerial duties of the branch bank on April 1 succeeding Scott Taylor, who has resigned. Taylor's resignation is effective on April 30.

The new assistant cashier has been connected with the Bank of Virginia Beach since February 1955, and has served in various capacities at the main office of the bank since that time.

Randolph lives with his mother, Mrs. Lucy Tunstall Randolph in Linkhorn Park.

Jamestown Festival Auto Tags Go On Sale Here

As the State auto license tags went on sale March 19th, so did another tag. The newest tag is a promotional piece for the Jamestown 350th Anniversary Festival, which opens April 1. Sponsored statewide by the Virginia Junior Chamber of Commerce, the tags went on sale Monday at $1 each.

C. B. Owens local chairman, said proceeds from the sale of the tags will go to the Virginia Society for Crippled Children and Adults, to help finance construction of a Cripple Children's Camp in Craig County.

Approval of the tags has been given by the Virginia 350th Anniversary Commission and by

C. H. Lamb, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

The plates, the same size as the city and county tags, have printed on the left side illustrations of "the three ships which brought the Jamestown settlers in 1607. On the top are the dates 1607-1957, and under that is "America's 350th Birthday." Made at the state penitentiary in Richmond, the plates are yellow with black printing.

The tags are on sale here at Kellam-Eaton Insurance Co., City Hall, Williams Steel Fishing Pier, Clark Chevrolet, Emmerich Motors, Bailey Appliance Corp. and Chamber of Commerce.

Salt Water Sport Fishing Promotion Plans Revealed in Meeting Held Here

Organizational Meeting Scheduled For Norfolk Latter Part Of April

Plans for a Tidewater area wide association that would promote Virginia's tremendous potential in the salt water sport fishing field was outlined at a meeting in Virginia Beach Tuesday, which was attended by representatives of State Department of Conservation, the Tidewater Anglers Club and civic leaders of Virginia Beach and the Eastern Shore.

Record Catch

They say fishermen are lucky, but last Saturday night there was no luck involved in the record catches made by three Virginia Beach anglers off the Williams Steel Fishing Pier. The trio, Luther Crockett, Maurice Davenport and Claude Rogers came away with eight rockfish weighing a total of 213 pounds.

The record catch was made in the surf and was reward for several years of research. Conditions were perfect as the trio of anglers knew from making exhaustive studies of the situation.

Besides their record catch the event is gaining national publicity and the picture of the fish and fishermen will be seen in a new fishing guide soon to be published by the State Department of Conservation and Development.

Mrs. Simpson Honored For Service In Welfare Dept.

Mrs. Rosaleen Simpson was honored last Friday at Princess Anne when she was presented a wrist watch by members of the County Welfare Board and members of the staff in recognition of her many years service to the welfare department.

Mrs. Simpson recently resigned as director of the Princess Anne Welfare Department. She has been succeeded by Mrs. D. E. Beasley, who has been a member of the staff under Mrs. Simpson.

As a result of the meeting Tuesday a meeting to be held in Norfolk is tentatively scheduled for the latter part of April at which time it is expected that a State-wide organization will be formed.

Director Raymond V. Long of the State Department of Conservation and Development said "millions of dollars of diversified spending are at stake" in Tidewater's bid for sport fishing supremacy.

Long said his department had been working on the program for the development of this area's salt water sport fishing resources "within the limits of sound conservation practices" for some months.

At the core of the program is the organization of a proposed Tidewater Virginia Salt Water Sport Fishing Assn.

Representatives of five Tidewater sport fishing areas will be invited to Norfolk during April to effect such an organization.

Director Long said Charles H. Foy, president of the Tidewater Anglers Club, had agreed to a suggestion that the Tidewater Anglers Club serve as host to the meeting.

The areas involved are the Northern Neck, the Rappahannock-York peninsula, the lower peninsula, the Norfolk-Sussex-Virginia Beach area, and the Eastern Shore of Virginia.

Foy and Claude Rogers of Virginia Beach, representing the Anglers Club, met with Long, James Barnes, director of the State Advertising Division, Arthur James, who has headed the salt water sport fishing study for the department, Sidney S. Kellam of Virginia Beach, Fenton Jones of Accomack, executive secretary of the Eastern Shore chamber of commerce, and Dabney Sandig, director of the Wachapreague Hotel, Wachapreague.

Long said the program actually got its start in 1953, when Kellam was serving as director of the conservation and development department.

"For one reason or another, including the illness of the key personnel involved in developing the program, we were delayed in getting a program into operation," Long added.

Last September, Long called in Arthur W. James, former director of the State Welfare Department who had retired from that post, and asked him to take over the development of such a program.

James said his study pinpointed the need for an official state salt water guide, now being published by the department.

Tourist Info. Booths Erected By C. Of C. Here

Two tourist information booths were erected in Virginia Beach Wednesday for use during the summer season here. The booths have been erected by the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce.

"We are looking forward to having more visitors this year than ever before due to the Jamestown Festival celebration," Harold B. Kellam, Chamber president said. "We have planned to erect information booths for some time and felt that with the expected heavy tourist influx this year we should put the program in effect immediately," Kellam continued.

The booths are located at 33rd Street and Pacific Avenue and on 14th Street near the city water.

When in operation the information booths will be manned by personnel who will be trained to give out a variety of information on Virginia Beach and also on the points of interest in nearby areas.

Beach Blvd. To Develop Into Farmers' Mart

PRINCESS ANNE — The Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors has approved the rezoning of property on the Virginia Beach Boulevard which will be developed into a mammoth farmers' market.

The supervisors rezoned a 33-acre tract Monday, paving the way for development of the property on the southside of the boulevard between Glenbrook and Thomas Corner. A spokesman for the development group from Norfolk, known as Farmers Market, Inc., said the plan calls for erection of a building covering 60,000 to 70,000 square feet.

Farm produce and other commodities will be sold in the new market at retail prices only, the spokesman said. Stalls will be located at the outside of the building where county farmers will sell produce directly to the consumer.

The farmers' market group is headed by Stanley Cross of Norfolk. The corporation has a long-term lease on the property with a purchase agreement included. The commercial rezoning for the property was obtained in the name of J. C. Hudgins, owner.

Polio Shots Available Tonight

Although Monday night's turnout was disappointing, officials are hopeful that more residents of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County will take advantage of the Salk polio vaccine clinic to be held tonight at four locations.

The polio shots will be available tonight at the Virginia Beach High School, Princess Anne High School, Sealeck Elementary School and the Princess Anne Health Center. The clinic is held from 7 to 9 p.m.

The clinics are being sponsored by the county medical society in cooperation with the Princess Anne Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and civic clubs. The polio shots are being made available for $1.

According to Dr. William V. Garrett, county health officer, only 1,216 persons visited the four clinics last Monday night and received the Salk vaccine.

A breakdown of the figures showed that 527 received shots at the Princess Anne High School, 370 at the Virginia Beach High School, 213 at the health center and 100 at the Sealeck school.

Monday night saw some rain fall and officials felt that the weather cut down the crowd. With a good night Thursday it is hoped that more will avail themselves of the opportunity to receive the injections.

Chinese Corner Keeps Name

The name of Chinese Corner in Princess Anne County will remain intact, at least for the present, according to county authorities, who Monday indicated that a move to change the name to Codd's Corner, in recognition of Elias Codd, Norfolk's premier bond salesman, has ended.

Codd, a naturalized American citizen and a popular delicatessen operator in Norfolk, set a national record during World War Two selling war bonds. A group of his fellow citizens had sought to have the intersection of Dock Road and Virginia Beach Boulevard named Codd's Corner instead of Chinese Corner.

On Monday Supervisor E. I. Herrick, representing the Kempsville district of Princess Anne County and the district in which the corner is located, made a motion that the idea be dropped. He told fellow board members he had received many petitions favoring the name be left as is.

You're getting near middle age when you can remember your high school advisors saying, "Don't choose engineering as a career! The country has more engineers than it knows what to do with." And now look!

"I was driving home in a torrential rain," a telephone company customer writes. "My car cut off just opposite one of your cable splicing crews. Two of your men hastily pushed my car off the road. One of them diagnosed my trouble as a cracked coil, and tried to tape it up. It wouldn't work. He went to a service station and brought back help and a new coil. All this in a flood of rain! This help was unsolicited and your men absolutely refused to accept any compensation. It is good to know that your

FORT STORY NEWS

FAR NORTH

More than 1,000 Army Transportation Corps soldiers will be trained here and at Fort Eustis this spring for summer supply missions in the Far North, a Fort Story spokesman announced today.

They will participate this summer in Operations SUNEC and 572 in support of America's Distant Early Warning (DEW) Line of radar stations across northern Canada.

Intensive training during the coming months, according to the spokesman, will teach the units the amphibious operations they'll use in unloading thousands of tons of vital cargo during the few summer months when Far North ports are free of ice.

From Fort Story, the 870th, 965th, 155th and 900th Transportation Companies are scheduled to participate as well as elements of two DUKW companies. In addition, six units from Fort Eustis will be augmented with amphibious vehicle drivers from Fort Story.

According to the spokesman, the first units will go to Greenland in April and the last will return from the North in late fall.

BARC'S RETURN

Two of Fort Story's four BARCs being repaired in Newport News Home Bros. Shipyard were returned to the post last Friday. The other two were tentatively expected tomorrow and Monday. The giant amphibious barges had been in the shipyard for about a month undergoing overhaul in preparation for their scheduled summer's operation in the Far North.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

The second meeting of Fort Story's Army Advisory Council was held on the post this week. The council, composed of key military officers and leaders in the civilian community, meets quarterly to consider matters of mutual interest.

The members discussed joint military-civilian projects such as the Jamestown Festival and the annual Easter Sunrise Service. Colonel George E. Woods, Jr., post commander, presented a short talk — illustrated with color slides — on the operation of Army Transportation Corps troops in the Far North.

Representing the civilian community at the meeting were Reverend Henry C. Barton, president of the Princess Anne County Ministerial Alliance; Lt. Hoarty and Rhase Adams, local business men; Robert Wainwright, Virginia Beach Real Estate Board; Frank W. Cox, superintendent of schools; Frank A. Dusch, mayor of Virginia Beach; and Harold B. Kellam, president of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce.

Colonel Woods was accompanied by members of his staff: Lt. Col. F. G. Ward, deputy commander; Lt. Col. M. A. Peterson, executive officer; Chaplains (Capt.) Edward Spillane and (1st Lt.) W. W. Owen; Maj. Bryn Griffith, provost marshal; 1st Lt. Marvin Halken, legal officer; and 1st Lt. W. D. Allred, information services officer.

TRIFAIH

Assistant Second Army Chaplain (Maj.) Allen G. Dillon will act as protestant minister for Fort Story's 1957 Tri-Faith Religious Emphasis Week from April 7-12.

Reverend Albet Van Nuffelen, priest of the Congregation of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, will be visiting speaker for the Catholic services.

According to the Fort Story chaplain's division, Tri-Faith Religious Emphasis Week is an annual program designed to help servicemen renew their religious convictions.

HEROES OF '76

Fort Story's Admiral DeGras Camp of the Heroes of '76 installed new officers during an encampment at Fort Story last week. Fort Eustis' Camp Patrick Henry performed the installation ceremony. Heroes of '76 is associated with the National Sojourners, a Masonic organization.

New officers are Lt. Col. F. A. Ward, Chief of Staff; Col. Edgar R. C. Ward, USA (ret.), deputy chief of staff (installed in absentia); Capt. Ernest Hoff, Assistant adjutant and historian; Maj. Joe S. Tubbs, officer of the day; and Maj. Harrison W. Chesley, 30th AAA, captain of the guard.

Also installed were Capt. Ralph L. Doane, captain of the colors; Maj. O. B. Stuart, lieutenant of the guard; Lt. Col. Norman Turnbull, quartermaster; Capt. Walter L. Miller, sentinel; and Maj. E. W. Williams, adjutant.

DUKW'S AT BAT

Fort Story's baseball club, the DUKWs, will be "just average" this year according to coach Frank Cecil, post athletic NCO. The season opens officially when the DUKWs meet Norfolk Naval Air Station at home April 16, but two practice games have been scheduled with Colonial Chevrolet in Norfolk for the 13th and 14th.

The team is now down to the regulation 25 men after three weeks of practice.

Heading the infield is shortstop

Carlton Keller, a Chicago Cubs property and a returnee from last year's DUKW squad. He has one other infield veteran, in third baseman Dickie Kops. According to Cecil, another infield standout is Cleveland Indians hopeful James Spettie at second base. Cecil is pleased with his catching department led by Robert Maguire, now being sought by the pro's after several successful seasons with the University of Massachusetts.

Coach Cecil said his pitching crew is weak and needs help to build a strong club.

In the outfield, he has Donald Sabatine who played with the New Orleans Pelicans in the AA Southern Association League before entering the Army in 1952. He's backed by Louis Nussbaum, a former Ohio State standout.

According to Cecil, the hitting is good and the infield strong. "But," he said, "the outfield is shaggy and the pitching is very weak. We'll have a 'just average' team this year."

OFFICER'S BOWLING

First Lt. Carl Shank, secretary of Fort Story's officers' bowling league, has announced final team standings.

The top three teams were: Drakes, won 42%, lost 25%, 625; Wheels, 40, 30, 571; and Ordens, 38, 32, 548.

High individual average for the season went to Captain Lester Schmirch with 182. Lt. Shank took high single game with 237 and Capt. Schmirch was high series man with 593. First Lt. William A. Young was named "most improved bowler."

Trophies were presented to the top two teams at a banquet in the Fort Story Officer's Club March 13.

CHAMPS

The 155th Transportation Company secured the Army Transportation Training Command inter-company basketball championship which ended at Fort Eustis last week.

They won out by dropping Fort Eustis' 117th Transportation Company 38 - 33 after an off-sight on-again hassle in the double elimination race. They had beaten the 117th in the prelims, gave up their single loss to the same team in the semi-finals, and squeaked by them in the title bout.

High scorers in the vindictive final win were Marvin Taylor and Charles Robinson, team captain.

SHOWMAN LIEUTENANT

A Fort Story officer is a member of the fifth Second U. S. Army showmobile scheduled to arrive at Fort Story soon. He is 2nd Lt. Roger Peltier, who just completed a world tour with the all-Army show, "Rolling Along." The showmobile production, "Showboat Jamboree," features a troupe of 20 performers selected from installations throughout this Army area.

FORM NINE

The duty of the Fort Story personnel office is to assign jobs to newcomers, but four recent arrivals at this Cape Henry post have the personnel clerks stumped. Born to Sambo, the office mascot who surprised everybody when he had kittens, they arrived last weekend. Their mother has the Military Occupational Specialty of "Rodent Control Specialist," and Lizzie Gets Her Man - In "The Rainmaker," which the Barter Theatre of Virginia is presenting Friday, March 22 at the Princess Anne High School, a flamboyant young con blusters into the lives of a rancher's family. He spouts philosophy, poetizes, wooes the girl, teaches her to have faith in herself, brings rain, and by the time he rides off to make a new pitch, Lizzie is well on her way—with another beau—to the altar.

Cavalier Juniors to Sponsor Barter Players in 'Rainmaker'

An American folk-play, "The Rainmaker," will be presented by the Barter Theatre, Friday, March 22nd at 8:15 p.m. at Princess Anne High School.

The play is sponsored by the Cavalier Junior Woman's Club and proceeds will go to the purchase of books and the increase of library facilities at Princess Anne High School and the Thalia & Kempsville Elementary schools.

As fresh and exhilarating as the flowers that bloom in the spring, "The Rainmaker," which the world famous Barter Theatre of Virginia, belongs to that small and exclusive member of television plays which were so successful that they were staged for Broadway and the legitimate theater.

N. Richard Nash, an imaginative and touching playwright, sets his play in the grandstands during a terrible drought and in this mundane situation he creates an enchantment worthy of Hans Christian Andersen.

Nash's family, with the admirable and touching Lizzie, on the brink of spinsterhood; her father, H. C., who longs to help her but doesn't know how; Noah, the practical, if devoted other brother, and the bumbling, effervescent youngster Jim—present relationships of tremendous warmth and simplicity.

Dominating the action is Starbuck, the Rainmaker, a swash-buckling braggart with the heart

It's assumed the youngsters will be assigned as her assistants. But here's what's bothering the clerks: which forms should they fill out?

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

The Story Unfolds In Fact

Last week we withheld comment on the litigation pending in the Princess Anne Circuit Court in the form of a writ of mandamus entered by a county resident to secure certain information in the form of records from the office of County Treasurer V. Alfred Etheridge. This information dealt with the depositing in banks of the county's funds.

We did say that we felt the officials of Princess Anne County were aware of their responsibility to the public and that among these responsibilities is to keep the public informed and to keep their records available for inspection by anyone entitled to see them. We further stated that we were confident that this is being done and that public officials should not be harassed for the purpose of political propaganda.

A newspaper article released last week was headlined: "Data Sought Via Court Open To All." The newspaper article went on to state that a report is made monthly to the county's Finance Board, showing the money is divided among two Virginia Beach banks, two Norfolk banks, fiscal agents and cash in the County Treasurer's office.

The writ of mandamus entered by W. W. Oliver, Jr., of Bayside, seeks the record of bank balances carried by the county Treasurer. Since this is available to "all" we don't know what the court hearing on March 28th will bring forth. It seems the headline on the newspaper story, "Data Sought Via Court Open To All," justifies our faith in the present Princess Anne County public officials.

Sport Fishing Gets Boost

Salt water fishing anglers along with the State Department of Conservation and Development are laying plans to stimulate salt water fishing in Virginia and to get the project underway a meeting of five regional groups is planned for Norfolk during the latter part of April.

A preliminary meeting of civic leaders, fishing enthusiasts and representatives of the Conservation Department was held in Virginia Beach on Tuesday. The aim is to form a State wide Salt Water Sport Fishing Association of Virginia and the enthusiasm shown at this meeting would indicate that the formation of such an organization is only a matter of time. Some of these figures discussed at the meeting are astounding and the great potential of salt water fishing in Virginia is in for a real promotional effort. A representative from the Eastern Shore, for instance, cited a village in his area with a population of 200 persons having launched more than 1100 fishing boats at one pier during the last July 4th weekend.

Salt water sport fishing folks are on the move and that movement could mean a great deal to the entire State of Virginia. The project should definitely move forward with the meeting in Norfolk next month.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

They See With Different Eyes!

(Wall Street Journal)

Never ask one woman how another woman looks because you'll never get a straight answer.

For example, I've discovered that when my wife describes another woman as "a very sweet wholesome, likeable girl," it always turns out that the "very sweet wholesome, likeable girl" is about 220 pounds of sweetness with three chins, needlepoint eyes and hair the color and texture of a used mattress.

On the other hand, if I happen to ask what a new girl friend of hers looks like and my wife says: "Oh, I suppose she looks all right if you happen to like her type," I can hardly wait to meet the babe, because I know she is going to be a knockout with lips like a dollar tulip. It's the same thing when women try to sell a girl friend on a blind-date boy friend. She'll start out by saying, "He's just a world of fun." (Which means he makes good money.)

If she says, "He's very intelligent," it means he's not very good looking.

On the other hand, if a girl describes a boy friend as a "character," it usually means he's a jerk.

So, you ask, "How does a girl describe a handsome, wonderful single fellow to another girl?"

The answer is: She doesn't. . . . Girls never try to fix up blind dates for their friends with handsome, wonderful fellows. . . . They go out.

Admiral Byrd's Dream

Many noted explorers die before worthwhile fruits can be reaped from their explorations. It must have been a source of great gratification for Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd that in his final years he saw the United States government taking massive steps to carry out the dreams which had come from his various trips to the Antarctic.

Some explorers sought the farthest reaches of the Arctic and the Antarctic purely through desire for adventure or to gain glory and its possible remunerative rewards. Admiral Byrd undoubtedly was filled with zest for venture into the unknown, but at the same time all of his explorations were made with a definite intent of progress—progress in science, progress in gaining knowledge that would further the course of civilization and bring benefits to humanity.

He was one of the few who saw such possibilities in the Arctic and Antarctic wastes—particularly in the Antarctic, the South Pole area. Admiral Byrd visualized this area as a huge "deep freeze" for the entire world, a place where surplus food could be stored and brought forth in years of food shortages and crop failures, wherever they might happen to be.

He first proposed this nearly a quarter of a century ago. At that time it was considered fantastic. Home freezers had not come into being, at least not to any extensive use. The huge frozen food industry of today did not exist. Now, Admiral Byrd's idea is far from fantastic. In fact, it seems practical in every way—for the future—and in all probability the time will come when it will be put into effect.

The present huge American government operations—under the Navy—in the South Pole area are a culmination of Admiral Byrd's hopes and dreams; hopes and dreams for massive exploration there aimed at definite scientific purposes. The current operations come in the International Geophysical Year, as part of it. Admiral Byrd did not live to see all of his dreams in the Antarctic come true, but he did live to see big scale efforts launched to bring them to practicality.

Miss Eloise Franco To Speak Before Association

Eloise Franco, author and lecturer of Virginia Beach, will bring to the Association for Research and Enlightenment further insight into the study of dreams, when the lectures Sunday on the subject "Dreaming is Experiencing."

Members and friends of the A. R. E. who have attended the winter lecture forum have enjoyed lectures on a wide variety of subjects, including the Bible, reincarnation, and the Dead Sea Scrolls. An in school course series on dreams incorporating many of the ideas she has set forth in her recently published book, "A Journey into a Strange Land."

Mrs. Franco is a contributor to Chimes Magazine, published in California, and has compiled a booklet based on a course she taught during the 1956 A. R. E. Congress, "Philosophical Concepts in the Edgar Cayce Readings." The booklet is to be published by the A. R. E.

The lecture series this winter was organized to equate the people of Tidewater with the Edgar Cayce readings and the work of the Association. The A. R. E. is a research group, non-profit, and formed for the purpose of presenting the psychic readings of Edgar Cayce to the public.

The series has met with great success, according to Al Turner, chairman chairman, who points out that although the lectures were little known in the early Fall, attendance has increased to an average of 75 to 100 persons each Sunday.

The A. R. E. has a membership of nearly 1,700 persons, and sponsors lectures, study groups, and conferences throughout the United States year round. There are approximately 50 study groups which hold regular meetings to study the A. R. E. books, "A Search for God," volumes one and two. Study groups also are concerned with Bible study and other matters either of a religious, social or scientific nature.

The Sunday forum lectures are held each Sunday at 4 p. m. at the A. R. E. headquarters, 67th Street and Atlantic Avenue. They are open to the general public.

Chesapeake Beach Plans Fashion Show

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Meekins in Atlantic will be the scene of a very festive occasion for the Women's Club of Chesapeake Beach on April 2.

At this time the ladies of the club are sponsoring a very elegant luncheon-card party during which fashions will be shown from Ames and Brownie's of Norfolk. Mrs. Mildred Alexander, woman's director of WTAR will be the commentator.

Hudson, has announced that funds raised by this party will go to assist the Woman's Club in paying their yearly obligation on the Chesapeake Beach Community Center. The center is a combined project of the Woman's Club, Men's Club and Fire Department of Chesapeake Beach.

Heading the hostess committee will be the club president, Mrs. Oscar T. Edmondson, and serving with her will be Mrs. J. W. Meekins, Mrs. Raymond W. Sprull, and Mrs. W. B. Meekins.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and foibles... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Last week we talked about Cinamon - a very popular spice - and this week - we're going to talk about the world's most popular spice. Did you know that Pepper has also been an amazing & mighty world power? This small shriveled, black berry, whose pungent particles season our daily food, has probably provoked more world history & caused more major world developments than other single force.

As early as 3,000 B.C. Pepper was an article of trade between Asia & Africa. Highly valued with gold & silver, Pepper was the ransom payment demanded for the beautifully city of Rome when it was conquered by Alaric, the Goth. Pepper was the first meat preservative, used in sausage meat during the time of the Crusader. It was so precious that 10th Century English landlords requested rent payments in Pepper.

The "Gild of Peppers" of the 12th century England was the forerunner of our present day trade unions. Early wholesale buyers of Pepper (purchasing more than a gross) were called "Grossers." From this name came our present terms "grosses" and "grocery store."

But perhaps Pepper's greatest single achievement was prompting the discovery of America & the Western World. Subsequently the early Pepper trade between Sumatra & the New England ports caused the beginnings of our own United States merchant marine.

So the next time you season your breakfast eggs or a baked potato with Pepper, give pause to the power behind those tiny, tasty particles!

Black Pepper refers to the dried, wrinkled berries of the Piper Nigrum plant. It is the berry of a perennial climbing vine. The berries are known as "Peppercorns." Pepper is the world's most popular spice.

Pepper is native of the East Indies. We import most of our from India & Indonesia, with lesser amounts from various ports all within a 1000 mile radius of Singapore.

Pepper Vines are trained to climb poles or other supports like a grape vine. Berries appear within two or three years of planting, although the vine does not attain maturity until the age of seven or eight years. When ready for harvesting, the berries look like clusters of red currants. While spread out for drying they change color & shrivel, finally becoming the black wrinkled dry berry with which we are familiar. Depending on care & fertilization, the vines bear for many years.

Black Pepper refers to berries picked before fully ripe, dried, cleaned & shipped. The entire berry is ground. Black Pepper is identified either by the ports through which it is shipped or by the areas where it is grown, for example: Alleppey, Lampong, Penang, Saigon, Singapore Pepper is shipped through the port of Singapore. Each of the peppers differs in color, size, physical & chemical properties & flavor.

White Pepper refers to berries left on the vine until fully ripe, when the outer hull or shell has partly separated from the white center. The ripened berries are steep in water to hasten the removal of the hull. The hulls are removed - the white peppercorn is washed several times - dried & shipped. The process of hull removal is known as Decortication.

White Pepper also derives its name from the ports through which it is shipped or areas where grown. Best known in the trade are: Muntok, Sarawak, Siam, Singapore & Tellicherry. The importer will refer to "Muntok White" or Tellicherry White.

Black Pepper has a characteristic, penetrating order & a hot, biting & a very pungent taste. The color should be light gray, with a tan shade in the lighter components.

Black & White Pepper both have innumerable uses in the foods of almost every nation on earth. They are available both whole & ground. They are used in almost every known condiment & in almost every processed meat or food. White Pepper is popular in sauces & with foods where Pepper flavor is desired without are so widely known that they would take columns to relate.

In addition to improving the flavor of foods, Pepper is valuable because the natural elements within it are helpful to the alimentary canal in its work of converting food into human energy. History speaks of Pepper as far back as 3000 B.C. yet it was not until 1947 that Scientists working at the Georgia Experiment Station proved its "pronounced preservative effect on meats used in sausage making. Pepper is also listed among spices recommended to season the food of hospital patients on salt free diet.

The search for trade routes to the Far Eastern source of Pepper & other spices stimulated exploration by Western Hemisphere maritime nations. The Western Hemisphere might not have been discovered until a much later date had Columbus not been able to convince financial backers of the possibility of finding pepper & other spices. Magellans expedition circled the globe in search of spices & although the great mariner lost his life & all his ships but one foundered, the Pepper in the hold of the surviving vessel more than paid for the loss. Pepper played an important role in the early days of the United States. From 1799 to 1846 Pepper worth many millions of dollars was brought to Salem by daring Yankee skippers who founded America's Merchant Marine.

One teaspoon of ground Black Pepper equals .066 ounces. One ounce equals 15 1/4 teaspoons.

One teaspoon of ground White Pepper equals .075 ounces. One ounce equals 13 1/4 teaspoons.

The phrases "pep it up," peppy personality & others actually come from the word Pepper. It has been proven that Pepper promotes the appetite & aids digestive processes.

Pepper has many other uses, too. Dusted around cracks & holes, Pepper will repel insects. Dusted on clothes it prevents moth damage.

Why don't you discover new uses for Pepper as Pepper discovered the New World? Use the food-flattering, pungent spice. It will add exotic flavor to your daily food. More than that, it will bring success-to-your-cooking-as-for

Beyond A Reasonable Doubt

Jayne Mansfield Shines in Hollywood Spotlight

Jayne Mansfield, who knocked with little success at film studio gates in 1954, firmly establishes herself as a full-fledged Hollywood star in Twentieth Century-Fox's Cinemascope comedy, "The Girl Can't Help It," which will have its local premiere on March 27 at the Beach Theatre. She gets star billing along with Tom Ewell and Edmond O'Brien, a $35,000 glamor wardrobe and private dressing room, befitting her new status as a picture star. All of this in contrast to her first trip to the cinema capital when the best she could do was cigarette girl Warner Brothers studio and a part opposite Dan Duray in "The Burglar," an independent production made in Philadelphia.

Jayne, who was born in Bryn Mawr, Pa., and raised in Texas, actually owes her start to news photographers and reporters, who discovered her photogenic charms and candid talk at the premiere of a picture called "Underwater" in Florida, although she had not worked in the film. She just went along to decorate the scene and decorate it she did. The stories and photos the New York and Hollywood press sent back intrigued the studios. It was a switch from the usual routine of being about Jayne all over again and Twentieth Century-Fox, Executive Producer Buddy Adler signed her to a fabulous exclusive contract. But she had a run-of-the-play contract and was not available. Adler solved all that by buying the play for a future Twentieth Century-Fox picture and bringing Miss Mansfield to Hollywood for "The Girl Can't Help It." The picture offered Jayne an excellent and sexy attractiveness in the role of a nightclub entertainer who holds her charms in small saloons and

Jayne's classic "dumb blonde" role in "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" brought her the sobriquet of "Broadway's Smartest Dumb Blonde." And the columnists were right. In Dallas she attended the Highland Park grammar and high school and later, despite motherhood, she enrolled in Southern Methodist University. She also went to the University of Texas

Maj. William C. Martell
Assigned to Area

NORFOLK — Major William C. Martell has been assigned to the 3rd Antiaircraft Artillery Group Headquarters as training advisor to its supporting National Guard AA Gun Battalions, Norfolk's 615th and the Peninsula's 710th.

A veteran of over 18 years service and the 1943 amphibious attack against Jap-held Attu, Major Martell led an AA machine gun platoon attached to the 17th Infantry during the invasion. He has had over 48 months duty in this area, the latest from 1954 to 1956 during which he participated in the establishment of the antiaircraft Nike defenses there.

After a 1946 to 1949 tour in Panama as a gun artillery battery commander, he was the command radar officer for the 35th Brigade headquarters at Fort Meade until 1954.

Entering the service in 1938 from Atlantic City, N. J., he made his permanent home in Virginia Beach in 1941, where he now resides. During a brief spell of civilian life in 1941 he was employed by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company as a central office repairman.

Martell is a member of the Sojourners AF and AM, Cristobal (Canal Zone) chapter, and the Chesapeake Consistory of Baltimore.

Martell will reside with his wife, Marian S., and children Cecie Lenora, age 13, and William C. Jr., age 10, 317 22nd St., Virginia Beach.

Jayne Mansfield proves that she can cook as well as act in this scene from "The Girl Can't Help It." Twentieth Century-Fox's Cinemascope comedy coming to the Beach Theatre on March 27. Tom Ewell and Edmond O'Brien are her co-stars in the picture.

and later to U.C.L.A. She was always an excellent student, maintaining a "B" average throughout her schooling and lacks only a semester's work to get an A.B. degree.

When 16 she married a fellow high school student, Paul Mansfield. A daughter, Jayne Marie was born to them on November 9, 1950. The marriage did not pan out and a divorce action is now pending in the courts.

Since her early childhood Jayne pointed her life toward a career in motion pictures. She worked in the Dallas Little Theatre, took dancing lessons, studied music and was considered a child prodigy on the violin. She also plays the piano and she speaks Spanish and German. With such a background she is anything but a "dumb blonde." Her manner is warm and simple. She answers honestly and without offense many questions that other actresses would consider intrusions on privacy.

It is interesting to note that Jayne always "parents" herself. She arrived in Hollywood with a beautiful selection of clothes designed by Oleg Cassini, including an $18,000 mink coat which she bought on the installment plan. She is well groomed at all times and is never seen at other than her best, all of which is reminiscent of earlier days in Hollywood when stars really sold glamour.

Chesapeake Beach Plans Clean-Up Drive
In Connection with the Jamestown Beautification project, there will be a "Clean Up" campaign at Chesapeake Beach the last week of March.
The Jamestown Festival Committee, the Chamber of Commerce, etc., are spending thousands of dollars to attract tourists to our part of Virginia. So it seems only fitting that we should get in the swing and have a campaign to clean up the beach. With all the thousands of tourists in our neighborhood we certainly want them to go home with a good impression of our area.
If everyone would co-operate what a clear place this would be! Resolve right now to pick up that trash you see blowing around. Fasten the garbage lid on tight. Remember garbage collection days and take in the garbage cans when they are emptied—PLEASE!
Don't dump trash across the street or in a vacant field or on the highway.
Don't forget to clean your yards and streets. It's our community and everybody's help is needed. Let's clean it up and KEEP IT CLEAN!
Block captains have been appointed by the Highway Beautification Committee and they will call on each resident with a copy of the ordinance relating to the collection of garbage.

Community Chests Move Closer To Area-Wide United Fund

If the respective Boards of Directors of the local chests, headed by Albin E. Malins, and the Norfolk Community Chest and the Norfolk Community Chest, approve the recommendation of consolidation committees of the two organizations in meetings next week, there soon will come into being an area-wide Tidewater United Fund.

Agreement was reached between a committee of the local chest, headed by Albin E. Malins, and a similar committee of the Norfolk Community Chest, headed by E. T. Gresham, in a meeting held in Virginia Beach Tuesday night. The committees agreed to recommend a consolidation of the two groups into a single area-wide organization to insure a unified fund campaign. The committees agreed that in a metropolitan area such as the Tidewater area problems would best be solved by a unified area effort.

In effecting such a consolidation, if final approval is given by the respective boards of directors, the new organization would call for 121 directors instead of the present 100 now serving the Norfolk Chest. The additional 21 members of the Board would come from the Virginia Beach - Princess Anne Community Chest.

Another point in such a consolidation would necessitate amending the present Norfolk Chest charter as to name and geographical territory encompassed by the Tidewater United Fund.

The consolidation would also extend the services of the council of social agencies work. A survey shows that the new organization would serve a population of 399,000 persons.

The Board of Directors of the Virginia Beach - Princess Anne Community Chest will meet next Monday night to receive the committee's report and recommendations. The meeting will be held in the Bank of Virginia Beach.

Beach Expects Record Breaking Vacation Season

Color Page on Virginia Beach in May "Holiday"

The Jamestown Festival with its predicted 3,000,000 additional visitors for 1957 is expected to increase this resort's business to a record breaking figure in 1957 according to all the prognosticators.

A healthy slice of the state's promotional budget is being expended on advertisements aimed to Virginia Beaches and Virginia Beach in particular. A four color page advertisement will appear in the May issue of "Holiday" directed to the landing on Cape Henry with a tie-in of this resort with the historical matter. According to a schedule sent the agency handling the Virginia Beach advertising account by James Barnes, (Commissioner of the Virginia Division of Public Relations and Advertising) other advertisements in which Virginia Beach has a part are as follows: April Redbook, Brides Magazine (Summer Edition), Summer Issue of Guide for Brides, June 8th Baltimore Sunday American, June 9th Baltimore Sun, June 8th Cincinnati Times Star, June 8th Cleveland Plain Dealer, June 9th Detroit Times, June 9th New

Country Day School For Girls to Open Around Sept. 20th

The Country Day School For Girls will open around September 20th in the Wilcox Manor at 3603 Atlantic Avenue. The lease on the ocean front building consisting of 22 rooms was signed on March 22nd with the agent of Stanley Smith, who is owner of the property.

A non-profit corporation, The Country Day School for Girls, was recently formed for the purpose of achieving a very high scholastic standard on college preparatory grades, according to the officers of the corporation: Mrs. James N. Bell, President; Mrs. R. L. Allen, Vice-President; and E. T. Gresham, Secretary-Treasurer. The above officers will serve as a supervisory board for the school which will embrace the sixth through the twelfth grades.

The proposed school which has had most enthusiastic interest and response from local parents became an actuality last Friday when the student enrollment reached the necessary quota for "the Go Ahead." Enrollments are still open in all grades, however, the directors have stipulated that classes are to be restricted to a maximum of twenty pupils.

Mrs. Anderson B. Carmichael of Great Neck has been appointed as headmistress. A graduate of the University of Missouri, Mrs. Carmichael has a Bachelor of Science degree in Education, did graduate study at the National University of Mexico and Middlebury French School, later pursuing her studies in France.

Early in her teaching career, Mrs. Carmichael was head of the Modern Language Departments of Murphy High School in Mobile, Alabama, while recent posts included Miss Turnbull's School in Norfolk, the Princess Anne High School, Virginia Beach High School and the Everett School at Virginia Beach where she was assistant principal. She will teach French in all grades of the new school for girls.

Mrs. Carmichael stated that The New Country Day School for Achievement Awards Liven Clean-Up Drive

Children of the Virginia Beach area are becoming almost amenable to working around the house and grounds nowadays. They have heard about the achievement awards being offered by the Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County.

We know about one small boy who went up and down a North Virginia Beach street collecting trash and rubbish for the better part of the day last Saturday. A little girl we heard about decided she would gather pine needles to cover up some bare spots in the family garden while her toddler brother gave his family nervous prostration trying to carry garbage cans twice his size. Parents will agree that this is not the usual pattern of behavior over an average weekend.

It has all come about through the efforts of the Youth Branch of the Clean-Up Committee sponsored by the Council. These tickets are being offered in each grade of area schools for best essays on the subject, "HOW I CAN HELP TO MAKE MY COMMUNITY MORE BEAUTIFUL" and for winning posters to be used in the coming CLEAN-UP DRIVE proclaimed by Mayor Dusch for the month of April. In addition cash awards will be given for the winning essay and poster in each school and some of the winning essays will be read over Radio Station WBOF.

It is the hope of the Clean-Up Committee that every resident of the Virginia Beach area may be reached and become an active participant in its campaign to clean up for the Jamestown Festival and to stay cleaned up afterwards. Twelve representatives of the Committee attended the last meeting of the Virginia Beach Council where they pledged to assist the City Government. The assistance will be in trying to win popular support for more rigid enforcement of its sanitary and litter ordinances and to acquaint residents with the seriousness of the problem.

The Committee particularly hopes to get the co-operation of every resident along Atlantic Parkway in the Clean-Up Drive. In this connection they ask that members of garden clubs and others willing to call on their neighbors in their own blocks and urge them to help in clean-up efforts get in touch with the Committee by calling Mrs. George Pittard at Virginia Beach 3561. City Council Studies Model Of Proposed Convention Hall

The Virginia Beach City Council looked into the future Monday when they viewed plans of architects for the city's new convention hall which will depend on a bond issue vote set for April 16. Architect Herbert L. Smith III, of Oliver and Smith, revealed a model of the proposed convention hall to the councilmen. The main feature is an aluminum dome 50 feet high and 145 feet in diameter. The cost of the construction is included in a $730,000 bond issue.

Construction of the huge prefabricated home at Virginia Beach would be the first such hall in continental United States. The first dome-shaped hall was built recently in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Smith told the council that as soon as a bond issue is decided on April 16, he could proceed immediately to negotiate with the Kaiser Aluminum Corp. for the construction of the dome.

The foundation, Smith explained, could be prepared so that the prefabricated dome could be pieced together in only five days after it arrives. The one in Hawaii was built in a record 20 hours, he said.

Smith said that once an order for the structure is placed with the aluminum corporation, it will take about three or four months for the pieces to be manufactured. It could be completed by August, he said.

The seating capacity for the hall would be 2,000. Smith said 1,500 could be fed at a banquet. He said the cost should be less than the $360,000 estimated for the convention hall.

The prefabricated diamond-shaped pieces of aluminum weigh a total of 39,000 pounds, Smith pointed out, but the entire mounted structure can be shipped here in one railway car.

Virginia Beach Men Re-elected To CS Board

The common stock-holders of Colonial Stores Incorporated, meeting in Norfolk Monday, re-elected 15 members of its board of directors, including two Norfolk men. One new director was elected to fill a vacancy.

J. W. Wood, senior vice president of the giant food chain, and Hunter C. Phelan Sr., board member, both of Bay Colony, Virginia Beach, were among those re-elected.

John F. Watlington Jr. of Wilmington-N.C., was the new member added to the board. A native of North Carolina, he was elected president some time ago of the Washington Post-News-Herald Co. and is the son of a distinguished North Carolina banker.

He succeeded Robert M. Hanes on the board and as head of the bank. Hanes had retired as president of the bank, the largest in the Fifth Federal Reserve District.

89 Pints of Blood Received

Eighty-nine pints of blood were collected last Monday on the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Virginia Beach.

Red Cross officials were somewhat disappointed on the amount of blood collected but attributed it to the bad weather on Monday and possibly as a result of the mass polio vaccines administered locally within the past week.

In all there were 94 donors Monday with seven rejections. It was reported that Mrs. Louise Hunter's third grade class at Willoughby T. Cooke school won top honors in the contest staged for the group arousing the most interest in the bloodmobile visit.

The next visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Virginia Beach will be on June 17th.

Battalion Inactivated at Fort Story

PORT STORY, Va.—The 376th Transportation Battalion was inactivated at Fort Story, Virginia, on March 25. Lieutenant Colonel E. A. P. McCarthy was final commanding officer of the unit which was activated at Fort Story on June 27, 1955. Companies which were assigned to the 376th shifted to the two other battalions on the post, the 10th and the 14th. McCarthy assumed command of the 14th Battalion, replacing Maj. Alfred R. Campbell, who is retiring from the U. S. Army.

Headquarters Detachment of the 376th Battalion has received notice in military publications recently. No member of the unit has been absent without leave since January of 1954, a period of more than three years. (The same unit was the Headquarters Detachment of the 84th Transportation Battalion, predecessor of the 376th.)

The battalion was originally constituted on June 19, 1942, as the 376th Quartermaster Battalion (Port), and was activated on June 23 of that year at Camp Stoneham, Calif. It was redesignated the 376th Port Battalion of the Army Transportation Corps on July 21, 1942. It was inactivated on Saipan on May 25, 1946. On May 11, 1955, the unit was allotted to the Regular Army again and was activated at Fort Story on June 27.

The 376th Battalion has the World War II Western Pacific Campaign Streamer and a Meritorious Unit Streamer from the Pacific Theater.

Of the units formerly assigned to the 376th, the Headquarters Detachment is inactivated, the 347th and 605th Amphibious Truck Companies are assigned to the 14th Battalion and the 870th Transportation Company to the 10th Battalion. The 612th Amphibious Truck Company is now assigned to the 14th Battalion, but will be shifted to the 10th on April 15.

Highway Construction To Be Given Go Ahead

Highway work costing about $45,000,000 will be given the go ahead April 1 when winter restrictions are removed on about 250 primary and secondary road projects. Construction will start on a full-scale basis as soon as that date as weather permits, a spokesman for the Department of Highways said today.

From November until April, road building is restricted to bridge work, off-road grading or other operations that will not seriously interfere with traffic.

Unusually wet weather in some sections held back progress that normal conditions would have been made during the winter. This was particularly in Southwest Virginia, where serious damage to many primary and secondary roads was caused by a flood that occurred in late January.

Construction on the $15,000,000 Rappahannock River Bridge between Greys Point and White Stone and on the $80,000,000 Hampton Roads bridge-tunnel between Hampton and Willoughby was continued through the winter. The Rappahannock River Bridge is expected to be opened by September this year and the bridge-tunnel by the end of the year. Both are revenue bond projects and are not financed with regular state funds.

Other major bridges under contract include the $1,250,000 Pamunkey River Bridge at West Point, which is expected to be opened about May 1; a $576,000 high-level bridge over Urbanna Creek at Urbanna, started last year; a $1,607,000 interchange at Seven Corners near Falls Church, where about 35 per cent complete; a $680,000 bridge and approaches at Island Ford between Covington and Clifton Forge, just getting started; a $1,137,000 Lynnhaven Inlet bridge between Virginia Beach and Ocean View, awarded to contract in January; a $493,000 Banister River bridge north of Halifax, awarded in February; and a $943,000 project which includes underpasses of two railroads and Campbell Avenue in Lynchburg, awarded this month.

Eastern Virginia projects include the division of US 13 north of the Klappoke ferry landing on the Eastern Shore and south of the Little Creek landing near Norfolk; the Lynnhaven Inlet bridge; dividing a two-lane section of Route 168 between the Naval Operating Base and Little Creek, at Norfolk; and a project to widen Virginia Beach Boulevard (US 58), in Norfolk between Granby Street and Park Avenue.

Cavalier Chapter, CAR Tour Fort Monroe

About ten members of the Princess Anne County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, took the members of the Cavalier Chapter, C.A.R., on a tour and picnic, Saturday, March 23, to Ft. Monroe.

Upon arriving at the fort, they were escorted on the tour by WAC Sgt. Stimpson, who explained the relics and all about the museum and fort. All were very impressed with the Jefferson Davis Cemetery, where he was held prisoner for two years in a cold, dreary cell. They visited the beautiful chapel of the Centurion on the post and were told of its history, which was most interesting. Seeing the flags that were carried in battle so many years ago impressed the children.

They also enjoyed seeing the Chamberlain Hotel and the beautiful pictures in the Continental Room, which are copies of originals and of Revolutionary and Colonial subjects.

A delicious picnic lunch was enjoyed by all at the YMCA. Those attending from the D.A.R. Chapter were: Mrs. Murray Malbon, Mrs. Penn Withers, Mrs. Bernard White, Mrs. Berton Owens, Mrs. M. A. Glass, Mrs. B. B. Booker, Miss Ruth Ford, Mrs. John Host, Mrs. James Bennett and Mrs. David Malbon.

Sports officials estimate there are 20,000,000 players of basketball in the world, and the number is still growing.

Dairymen Will Meet Tonight At Kempsville

PRINCESS ANNE — Four speakers will discuss the bulk tank systems for area dairymen tonight at 8 p.m. at the Kempsville School.

Princess Anne County Agent E. R. Cockrell Jr. has asked Norfolk County Agent Edward L. Wood to invite Norfolk County dairymen and has announced this schedule:

Guy J. Nageotte, associate Agricultural Extension Service dairy specialist at VPI, "Factors to Consider in Choosing a Bulk Tank," 8-8:30 p.m.

Ned Tucker of Blackstone, field representative of the Southside Milk Producers Cooperative, "Problems to Eliminate," 8:50-9:20 p.m.

Ellis S. Nestor of Norfolk, rural engineer of the Virginia Electric and Power Co., "Providing the Electrical Supply," 9:20-9:35 p.m.

Dr. Mathew P. Ellmore, AED dairy specialist of VPI, "Advantages and Disadvantages of Bulk Milk Handling," 9:45-9:50 p.m.

"I have been told that some milk distributors will not want to take milk in cans after July 1," Cockrell said.

He added that dairymen have been asking him what kind of bulk system to get. He said he arranged the discussion to help answer this question and others related to the bulk handling of milk.

"At the close of 1956 over 700 Virginia milk producers were cooling and storing milk in bulk tanks on the farm. This involves about 25 per cent of the total Grade A milk produced in the state," Cockrell continued.

"Savings in cooling cost, labor and milk loss plus added premiums will quickly pay for initial investments. . . . Milk quality is generally improved because of the rapidity of cooling and the elimination of cans that sometimes are a source of bacterial contamination."

The number of supermarkets in this country has grown from 6,175 in 1940 to almost 21,000 in 1956; from a dollar volume of two billion to almost 21 billion.

LUZON, Philippine Islands (FHTNC) — Marine 1st Lt. James M. Shoemaker, Jr., son of Admiral and Mrs. James M. Shoemaker of 213-G Second St., Virginia Beach, Va., landed on the Philippine island of Luzon Mar. 25 with the 3rd Marine Division in the largest ship-to-shore operation held in the Far East since World War II.

The week-long exercise started when the assault landing forces hit the beach in small landing craft. Other units hopped over simulated beach defenses in helicopters to capture key inland positions.

This vertical envelopment concept, developed first by the Marine Corps, provides a landing force with a powerful one-two punch for securing a beachhead.

The exercise includes more than 40 miles of hiking, practical application of tactics and techniques perfected during the 3rd Division's year-long training program.

VEPCO to Open New Building On April 1st

Virginia Electric and Power Company will be doing business at Virginia Beach in its new $140,000 headquarters at 18th Street and Arctic Avenue beginning April 1.

Transfer of equipment and materials from the old headquarters building at 220 Seventeenth Street is scheduled for the week-end of March 29-31, according to Vepco Manager C. L. Sale.

The new Vepco building, was designed to harmonize with beach architecture and is painted an off-white with sand-colored trim. The building encloses about 8,000 square feet of floor space. Customer and employee parking have been provided on the one-acre site.

Temperature control requirements are met by heat pump units that serve the dual purposes of cooling in warm weather and warming in cold weather.

An auditorium capable of seating 40 persons features a modern electric living center for use of Vepco home service personnel in demonstrating food preparation before women's groups.

Other interior space is provided for meter and service personnel, supervisory offices, accounting, engineering and sales personnel. Two line crews and five servicemen comprise 21 members of the normal force of about 37 employees at Virginia Beach.

Chief advantages of the new headquarters for Vepco operations are the consolidation of facilities at a single location and a general increase of working space which will enable the company to better serve its customers.

In addition to improved storage space for equipment, an electrically operated 10-ton crane has been provided for easy handling of utility poles and transformers to further improve service to customers.

Crape Myrtle Planting Will Get Underway

Four hundred crape myrtle bushes will soon be planted along the Jamestown Festival crape myrtle trail in Princess Anne County.

The sites selected for planting: Route 60 and Route 13, Gilmore Lee Tibbrook announced Tuesday.

Mrs. Tibbrook, with two other members of the Jamestown Festival Highway Beautification Committee in Princess Anne County, Mrs. R. W. Spruill and Mrs. Cecil Reed, met recently with S. DeLucia of the State Highway Department.

"With his help, we chose the general location," said Mrs. Tibbrook. "It seemed better to concentrate our crape myrtles along a route where they would make the best show, rather than to scatter them all over the country."

The Shore Drive or Route 60 was chosen because "That's the road that's going to take over the heavy traffic when the new bridge-tunnel is finished." It's being widened now into a four-lane highway, and as yet hasn't been landscaped at all.

Route 13 was chosen because "It turns off Route 60 to go toward Suffolk, and some of the traffic will go both ways. Also, considerable contributions for buying shrubs came from people who live along Route 13."

Why wasn't Laskin road chosen? "Because a number of crape myrtles have been planted there by the Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, and more will be planted soon."

Funds for the purchase of the 400 shrubs came from many sources. Largest contribution was $750 from the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors for Highway beautification. There were many contributions from individuals, as well as the Lake Joyce, Lake Shores, and other garden clubs. The Chesapeake Women's Club is working with property owners to plant crape myrtle along a mile of Pleasure House Road.

"Local nurseries are offering both crape myrtle and dogwood trees at unusually low prices this spring," said Mrs. Tibbrook. "The more people who take advantage of this opportunity, the more beautiful our community will become — not only for this spring but for every subsequent spring."

P. A. Building Totals $2,596,675 In Month

The month's total brings the total for the year to 311 permits having an estimated construction cost of $4,300,416. The county's fees total $12,990 so far this year.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

A Dome Shaped Convention Hall

On April 16 a bond issue will be placed before the voters of Virginia Beach and if it is approved the long sought convention hall will be a big step closer to reality.

This past week architectural were revealed of the proposed building which would be a dome shaped aluminum type structure, according to the architects. In mind is a fifty foot high aluminum stressed-skin facility which would be the same size as one recently erected in Honolulu.

The proposed building would have 16,500 square feet of floor space and capable of seating up to 2000 persons and would be able to feed 1500 persons.

The new building not only would afford Virginia Beach an opportunity to attract large convention business, but if the proposed new aluminum dome shaped design is adopted the building would immediately attract widespread publicity which would aid in calling the world's attention to the new convention hall at Virginia Beach.

Contingent upon the passage of the bond issue and the construction of the convention hall the Chamber of Commerce has announced plans to establish a special convention bureau of the Chamber.

There is hardly any question that a convention hall here would be a tremendous boon to business and it would undoubtedly extend our present season at both ends.

The matter is in the hands of the voters and we are confident that on April 16 they will give overwhelming approval to the bond issue at stake.

April Is Clean-Up Time

Mayor Frank A. Dusch has proclaimed the entire month of April as clean-up month in the City of Virginia Beach. This particular proclamation should be taken seriously and to be by all residents of this area and it's purpose should not be confined to the city of Virginia Beach. It is the hope of city officials, garden club leaders and civic organizations that the meaning of this act by the Mayor will permeate the entire Virginia Beach area and Princess Anne County.

There has never been a time in our history when an all-out cleanup effort on the part of our citizens was more needed. It is needed first because there is much to be done in our area in the nature of cleaning up and beautifying our city. It is especially needed at this time for we are approaching a summer season that looks to be the best since the war years.

What does this mean? It means that

Virginia Beach should receive more tourists this summer than in any previous year. This assumption is based primarily on the great Jamestown Festival celebration and the great Naval Review in Norfolk. But, these are not the only reasons to expect a banner summer season here. These events will help immeasurably and should lengthen our ordinary season. A basic reason to expect a big resort year is the fact that Florida has enjoyed a very good season and resort and travel experts throughout the country are unanimous in their prediction of a great travel year for Americans this year.

But without all of these facts a cleanup campaign here is a must. We hope that everyone who is in a position to help in this direction will make an honest effort to cleanup, paint up and fix up during the next month. It will pay huge dividends.

Notes From Your County Agent

BY E. R. "DICK" COCKRELL, JR.

Pasture provides the cheapest source of feed for beef cattle, sheep, hogs, and dairy cattle. Every good livestock farm should have ample pasture and forage to adequately feed their livestock twelve months of the year.

Of all the various feeds that can be fed livestock pasture costs approximately $1.00 per 100 pounds of TDN whereas purchase grain costs about $5.00 per 100 pounds of TDN. The net profits that livestock farms enjoy will depend on which of these feeds they use in their livestock program.

Livestockfarmers of Princess Anne and Norfolk Counties and the surrounding area will have an opportunity to look at good pasture and forage crop systems on Wednesday, April 10th in the First Annual Princess Anne - Norfolk Pasture and Forage Crop Tour. Four farms will be visited during the day long schedule starting at the farm of Beverly and Roger Sawyer at Lynnhaven. They make good use of fescue and ladino pasture in a cow and calf operation and ladino-clover pasture for hogs. Their winter hay needs are met from pasture clippings, lespedeza and a small alfalfa acreage. All the winter forage is produced at home.

The second stop will be the farm of A. J. Hershberger at Lynnhaven. Mr. Hershberger has a Grade A dairy farm which placed third in average butterfat produced per cow in the Virginia Dairy Herd Improvement Association in 1956. You will observe on his farm a good system of rotational grazing of orchard-grass-ladino pastures. Most of the winter feed is grown on the farm in the form of pasture clippings and corn silage.

In the afternoon another dairy farm owned by John Coglandino, who incidentally was sixth in average butterfat produced per cow in the Virginia D. H. I. A. in 1956. John uses winter pasture to a good advantage and his permanent pastures include ladino, orchard grass and ladino-fescue mixtures. A small acreage of pearl millet to supplement permanent pastures during the hot dry summer months.

The fourth stop will be a beef cow-calf and steer operation on the farm of H. G. Ashburn at Hickory, Virginia. Horace has an extensive pasture system and grazes these pastures rotationally. His permanent pasture mixtures include ladino orchard grass and ladino fescue. Winter feed is produced at home from corn silage, pasture clippings and lespedeza hay. Grain for finishing the steers is home grown.

This tour is designed for present livestock and dairy producers but it also provides an opportunity for those persons contemplating going into either of the two businesses. The tour will start at 9 A.M. and end at 3:30.

The Virginia Beach Advertising and Promotional Budget, which is the largest to date is being expended with a theme "Vacation at Virginia Beach and Visit Jamestown. Sizable advertisements will appear on a schedule in twenty-seven newspapers starting this Sunday. Three magazines are also on the publications schedule.

The current billboards contracted for by The Advertising Committee for Virginia Beach will carry the same theme while 15 poster boards promoted by Clarence Smith and Charles Gilliam for The Virginia Beach Hotel Association will supplement the large paint units on the Adv Committee program. This billboard saturation of the highways leading to and in the state should be an immeasurable influence in steering the motorist to Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Lucy Trafton, Vice-chairman of The Advertising Committee said that the 1957 quantity of color folders and accommodation folders is the largest ever ordered for the resort and pointed out that a special folder on Jamestown, the area events and Virginia Beach events has been in distribution since last December thru transportation and travel agencies. The State's Conservation Department, The Travel Council, Travel Shows, the State Chamber and our own Chamber of Commerce.

A much earlier season is anticipated due to the Jamestown Festival opening April 1st, a late Easter and the many coinciding events over the Easter holidays in our immediate area.

Historic Garden-week (April 20-27). The Norfolk Azalea Festival (April 22 - 28). The Mid-Atlantic Invitation Seniors Golf Tournament (April 21 - 25). The Pageant at Cape Henry re-investing the land of the Jamestown Colonists (April 26). The Coronation of the Azalea Queen (April 27). The Cape Henry Pilgrimage (April 28) with the Archbishop of Canterbury attending.

The International Naval Review which will bring ships from 16 nations into Hampton Roads between June 8th to 17th will not only contribute largely to Virginia Beach's publicity but will attract thousands of visitors to this area for this spectacular display and its program of events, a number of which will take place at Virginia Beach.

All agencies in the state, our own local Chamber of Commerce and out of state travel counselors report a tremendous early interest in Virginia Beach this year... so weather or no, 1957 should really "ring the bell."

Day School

Girls will have national tests in all subjects so a pupil will be acceptable in any school in the country. Our real purpose, she went on to say, is to prepare the girls for the College Entrance Examinations.

The faculty which is practically complete will be announced in the very near future and this staff will consist of instructors highly qualified and devoted to academic learning, according to the officers of the school. Aside from accepted courses of study, sports, social activities, music and art appreciation and current events will be included in the curriculum. Supervised study will also be on the daily schedule so that students may have the benefit of trained assistance instead of the so termed "home work."

As Mr. Lee Page, Virginia Beach's First Citizen and an Honorary member of the Council of Garden Clubs, took the major effort to have them free of litter before the celebration of the Cape Henry Landings on April 26th.

This has been true. The original committee formed under the sponsorship of the Council of Garden Clubs has expanded to include representatives from other interested civic organizations and now members of the City Council as well. They have made it a permanent Committee which will work the year around for a cleaner Virginia Beach.

25 Vacancies In Police Division

Richmond, Va. — Colonel C. W. Woodson, Jr., Superintendent of State Police, today announced that 25 vacancies now exist in the Department for young men of good character and who are in tip-top physical condition. At the same time, he added that additional appointments will create 25 more openings July 1, 1957.

Minimum requirements, in addition to excellent physical condition and good moral character, are attainment of age 21, a high school education or its equivalent as approved by the State Department of Education, possession of a Virginia driver's license and a good driving record plus willingness to serve anywhere in Virginia.

A recent salary increase, he said, permits a young man to enter the service as a trooper at an annual salary of $3,936 which may be increased by yearly steps to $4,920 upon completion of five years of satisfactory service. Two years' service as a trooper are required before consideration for promotion to sergeant.

Other benefits listed by Colonel Woodson were the provision of all uniforms and equipment, including shoes; ample sick leave and vacation; compensatory leave for overtime work and that performed on holidays; a retirement program; provision for reimbursement of certain travel expenses while on duty.

Certain aptitude tests must be successfully completed as well as a physical examination and the applicant must undergo character investigation. If employed, he assumes the status of Probationary Trooper, receives the full starting pay with time accounting for annual increases, and is sent to the field for training until a 14-week Basic Training School is convened.

Colonel Woodson was emphatic in stating that the existence of vacancies could in no way lead to any lowering of the high personnel standards which the Department enjoys.

Annual Easter Seal Drive Under Way

The annual Easter Seal campaign of the Princess Anne County-Virginia Beach Chapter of the Virginia Society for Crippled Children and Adults started last week. It was announced by R. H. Owen, president, of the local chapter. The campaign, which is scheduled to run until Easter Sunday, is to raise funds for carrying on the society's work during the next year.

Pointing out that the future welfare of many crippled children and adults depends on the response of the citizens of our community, Mr. Owen said, "Many children who have been waiting for care must be reached this year if their rehabilitation is to be achieved in time to assure them happy productive adult lives."

The Society provides all types of rehabilitation services to both children and adults. The only requirements are that such services are not available through an agency or organization more specifically concerned with a particular type of handicap and that the person be in financial need. A new look in Easter Seals is being introduced as the 1957 seals go in the mails. Each sheet contains two sizes of seals—one for use on letters and cards, and the larger ones designed for use on packages and gifts. There is also a sticker appearing in the center of the sheet which contributors to the Easter Seal campaign are encouraged to use on windows and doors when they have mailed their donations. Mr. Owen pointed out that 90 per cent of the funds raised are used in the local community, the remainder going to the support of the nationwide program of education, direct service, and research, including the National Easter Seal Research Foundation. Statewide, the Easter Seal Society provided services to 5,807 handicapped children and adults last year.

The Virginia Society for Crippled Children organized a local chapter February 21, 1957. R. H. Owen, president, Miss Harriet U. Allstock vice president, Constance N. A. Brown treasurer, and Miss R. B. Tyne secretary.

CONSTRUCTION FOR FESTIVAL

FORT STORY, Va.—Construction of a 25-car parking lot near the Cape Henry Memorial Cross at Fort Story began Monday morning.

Contractors Paving Company of Norfolk received the $9,107 contract which also calls for sidewalks from the lot to the cross. Heavy rains delayed the start of construction of the lot, which is being prepared as part of a beautification project of the cross site in preparation for the Jamestown Festival. The U. S. Army recently granted additional land to the National Park Service for the project.

Two ceremonies are scheduled for the cross site: Easter Sunrise Services and the 37th Annual Pilgrimage of the Order of Cape Henry, 1607 on April 28.

SHOTS

The Fort Story dispensary is offering Bulk Polio Vaccine shots for all personnel on a voluntary basis.

Authorities report the turn-out has been "excellent." "Man's best friend" is facing the needle too as a veterinarian is visiting the post to give rabies inoculations to all pets. The animal shots are being used along with precautions by the Post Rod and Gun Club, which includes the services of game wardens, to prevent rabies at Fort Story.

The Rod and Gun Club is an organization of military personnel and civilian employees interested in hunting and fishing and wildlife conservation.

BARC'S RETURN

The last two BARC's (Barge Amphibious, Remotely Cargo) returned to Fort Story this week.

The two 98-ton amphibious vehicles, the world's largest "swimming trucks" have been in the Home Brothers Shipyard in Newport News for more than a month undergoing general repairs and overhaul to prepare them for operations in the Far North this summer. Army Transportation Corps troops, along with the Military Sea Transport Service, have carried vital supplies and equipment to radar sites and military bases near the Arctic Circle.

The BARC's, which are stationed at Fort Story, have proved their value in the Baffin Bay area where their large tires carry their loads of up to 100 tons over any type of terrain. Tidal changes in that area cover a distance of approximately two miles, but the BARC's are able to make continuous round trips on either land or water.

The four vehicles are the only such amphibians now in use by the Armed Services.

SPECIAL SERVICES

A variety of special services activities, designed for military personnel's free time and recreation periods have been announced by Captain Dale W. Adkinson, officer in charge.

Headquarters Company of the Fifth Terminal Command B holds an unbreakable lead in the race for the Sports Participation Trophy. The award, presented to the unit which has the most members participating in athletic events and the greatest number of points given teams placing first, second and third in any sport, is being sought by 13 units. Competition is still continuing, special services personnel say, but with a 125 point lead at the present.

Headquarters Company of the Fifth has too wide a margin. The 461st Amphibious Truck Company is currently in second place and the 347th Amphibious Truck Company ranks third.

Headquarters Detachment of the 376th Transportation Battalion took top honors in the post bowling tournament. Headquarters Company of the Fifth claimed second and the 558th Transportation Company placed third. A bowling sweepstakes is now being planned for the entire post.

Dancing classes on weekends are now being offered to Fort Story personnel at the Service Club. Admission is free and the men are allowed to bring dates and wives at their guests.

Tidewater Dancing School presented a special variety show at the Service Club on March 27.

SONG AND DANCE MAN. Private Wardell T. Anderson got stage fright while singing one evening. So the 18-year-old Fort Story soldier took up dancing as well. "It gives you something to do when you get nervous or frightened," he explained.

His interest in dancing, which was first fostered by an elementary school teacher, was well-founded. He was declared a winner in a recent talent contest for the Transportation Training Command at Fort Eustis, parent installation of Fort Story, and is now eligible for the Second Army Contests to be held at Fort Meade, Md., later this year.

Anderson, who has been entertaining with his voice and feet since he was nine, is assigned to the 565th Transportation Company at Fort Story. He is the son of Mrs. Eunice Harper of Detroit, Mich.

SPEAKER

Captain H. W. Mills will discuss "Survival in the Woods" with Explorer Post 55 of the Boy Scouts of America at the Oak Grove Methodist Church on March 29.

According to Advisor George E. Beck, the group plans a "Survival Hike" from April 23-25—traveling 100 miles on foot and "living off the land" by fishing, etc.

During two years in Alaska, Captain Mills served as Deputy Enforcement Officer for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and later, while stationed in Greenland, spent considerable time photographing and studying migratory waterfowl breeding grounds.

His talk was arranged through the Fort Story Speakers Bureau, which provides military speakers on a wide variety of subjects to civic, patriotic, fraternal and educational groups in the area.

Cub Scout Pack 60 Turns Out As Wild Indians For Monthly Meeting in March

By Kay Daughle Sewell

More than half a hundred wild Indians invaded the First Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p. m. March 19, for the monthly meeting of Cub Scout Pack 60.

They weren't acting 'up. The March theme had been Indian customs and legends. No theme could have touched their hearts more.

Opening ceremony was conducted by Den 1, with unexpected bob cat, wolf, bear, and lion noises thrown in. Announcements were made, the best of which was that there would be no "inspection." The boys instead were allowed to march in a circle around the room. Each wore war-paint, and varying degrees of Indian regalia.

This regalia constituted most of the Cub's projects for the month, which they were happy to wear on their backs (or heads) instead of displaying in the customary exhibit room.

However, there were certain supplementary exhibits on display. Outstanding was a complete Indian village, with acorn, canoe, wigwams, and active modelling clay Indians: the work of Den 4, under the auspices of Den Mothers Mrs. Tom Davis, Mrs. Josh-Vaughan, and Mrs. Parker Sneed.

Den 3's exhibit was notable for its elaborate sign language messages, burned on slabs of wood. Den 6 produced such sizable and characteristic exhibits as a wigwam, tom-tom, tomahawk, and a very fetching papoose.

High spot in the evening program was a skit by Den 5, giving an overall and dramatic picture of various American Indian tribes, mostly in pantomime. Each boy's costume, right up to his hair-do and headpiece, showed research. Douglass Niel came as the Chinook; Chick Jordan, as Maidu; Chris Huddins, Sioux; Jimmie Hooper, Pueblo; Jud Burke, Iroquois; Peter Holland, Navajo; Ricky Donahay was Little Paleface. Fred Turner did the narrating, in Hiawatha cadence, punctuated by tom-toms beat at appropriate intervals by Den Chief Charles Ansell.

Den Mothers assisting in this skit were Mrs. Julian Burke, Mrs. Peter Holland, Mrs. Roderick Dennehy. The closing ceremony, also with a lot of Indian sign language, was conducted by Den 2.

But not until Chief How (Lt. Fred Turner), turned out as a full Indian chief, gave the achievement awards for the month.

Den 3, under the leadership of Den Mother Mrs. Roy E. Folk and her assistant Mrs. J. R. Mayher, got top honors, with achievements for each den member: Robert McCall, Jeffery Gates, George Mildrum, Scott Folk, Ricky Mayher, Larry Fidel, Garry Dolgins.

Den 7 had awards for Chris Giddard, Ricky Donaldson, Jim Briggs, Den 8, for Larry Powell, Skippy Gilbert, Tommy Robert-shaw, Den 5, Jud Burke, Chick Jordan, Den 2, Joe Potter, Sandy Dillon, Jimmy Batchelder, Den 1, Webb de Witt, Kim Pronabarger, Martin Solasky.

Two boys in Den 7 came in for a special ceremony. They were Billy Wahab and Steeter Lott, both of whom, solemnly attended by their parents, were graduated into the ranks of Webelos.

Here's one way Uncle Sam can cut your cost of living...

REPEAL THESE "TEMPORARY WAR-TIME" TAXES ON TRANSPORTATION!

It's time Uncle Sam made good on the promise he made the people.

He's already eleven years late!

During World War II, Congress put a "special" 3% tax on freight transportation charges. This was not designed as a revenue-producing tax; it was intended to discourage private use of railroad transportation at a time when Uncle Sam needed the railroads to win a war.

The war's over... but the tax lingers on.

YOU are the one who pays this tax. The shipper doesn't pay it, nor would you expect him to. It increases his cost of doing business, and the only sound way he can handle it is to tack it on the price of his product and pass it on to the consumer.

Sometimes it's much more than a 3% tax, as far as you're concerned. In many cases, the tax is paid on materials shipped to a factory, and paid again when the finished product is shipped to market. In such cases, Uncle Sam "has you coming and going."

That's not all. You're still paying a ten percent "temporary war-time" tax on passenger fares, too.

THESE TAXES ARE NOT FAIR. They're not fair to the people. They're not fair to the carriers. They're not fair to Uncle Sam's preparedness program because they prevent these vital carriers from building to maximum strength and readiness.

Uncle Sam promised to repeal these unfair, discriminatory taxes after the war. It looks like the people will have to remind him the war's over and hold him to his promise.

If you want to help, write your elected representatives and let them know how you feel.

THE MAN WHO OWNED MOBY DICK

It was actually a too-big car. At gas pumps, it drank like a fish. So he called it "Moby Dick."

It even had fins like a fish. Parking it was like trying to squeeze a whale into a goldfish bowl.

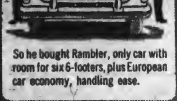

He thought about trading "Moby" for an economical little foreign car. It was too little for 5 kids.

So he bought Rambler, only car with room for six 6-footers, plus European car economy, handling ease.

32 MILES PER GALLON

It was a Rambler "6" that set the NASCAR cross country record of 32 miles per gallon with overdrive.

Rambler's 1st in trade-in value among all low-priced cars, because it's the smartest buy, new or used.

Princess Anne Wrestling Coach Wins Scholarship

Princess Anne's wrestling Coach Dick Harrison recently won a scholarship to the University of Virginia. The scholarship was sponsored by the National Science Foundation. There were 16 colleges and universities offered. The requirements were that he must have three years of Math or Science. He applied for the scholarship by filling out an application to the school of his choice. On March 14 he was notified by letter that he had won the scholarship. He will start attending the Harrison went to Duke University for four years and graduated in 1951. He majored in Math and Physical Education. His main interests in college were wrestling, bridge and the family.

Before coming to Princess Anne he taught at South Norfolk at Smith High School for four years. He was wrestling coach for four years and also assistant football coach for two years during that time. Then the next two years he was head football coach. He also taught Math for four years.

Coach Harrison is married and has three children Lynn S. Mike T. and Cathy S. He met his wife in High School and he was married in his first year of college.

The coach will be coming back to Princess Anne after he finishes his year of college. Sounds mighty good - why not try it & see for yourself.

I thought you'd probably like some seafood suggestions, a this time. During the Lenten Season many of us are searching for new & different ways to serve seafood - for there are many days our menu includes seafood.

I'm sure you'll agree that versatile fish fillets help us keep food cost down. One of the best ways to economize & yet maintain high standards in serving good food is to buy foods that are plentiful & in season. You can always get frozen fish fillets & onions are most always plentiful - so why not combine these two foods & make a delicious & inexpensive main dish.

Spanish Fish Fillet
1 pound fresh or frozen fillets (cod - haddock or ocean perch)
1 medium onion (sliced thin)
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Juice of half a lemon
Buttered five bread crumbs
3 or 4 stuffed olives, sliced
Let fillets thaw on refrigerator shelf or at room temperature. Place onion slices on bottom of buttered shallow baking dish. Lay fillets on top. Season with salt & pepper. Dot with butter - sprinkle with lemon juice, then cover with buttered crumbs. Bake for 20 - 25 minutes, or until fish with a fork. Garnish with sliced olives. Makes 3 servings.

The 1956 salmon pack was 25 per cent greater than that of 1955, reports the National Fisheries Institute. For several years, the numbers of both pink & red salmon caught have been decreasing at an alarming rate, but now U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service Conservation measures are beginning to pay off. These measures include better protection of spawning beds, stream clearance, reduction of predators, and adequate escapement of salmon to their spawning beds. This effort to protect the salmon on their way to spawn will pay dividends in years to come, as the life cycle of the salmon varies from two years with the pink to four to six years with the reds. Since the large 1956 pack reported by the Institute is showing up on grocery shelves, new & interesting ways of using canned salmon - a popular food for years - are especially welcome. Here's a Salmon Bisque especially developed for company meals by the National Canners Association for the Institute.

De Luxe Salmon Bisque
1/2 cup minced onion
1/2 cup butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt

fish fillets, all boned, scaled, neatly packaged and frozen. Although Jim's recipe calls for sole and pike, the National Fisheries Institute assures us that any white-meated fish fillets will do.

Jim Beard's Russian Stew

Users of 1040Tax Forms May Compute Tax

Taxpayers who use the simple card Form 1040A in filing their 1956 Federal income tax return may now compute their own tax. Instead of waiting for calculation and billing by the Internal Revenue Service, District Director C. W. Glotzbach of the Richmond Office today reminded taxpayers with income of less than $5,000. A tax table setting forth the amount of taxes due at all income levels below $5,000, taking into account dependency and other deduction factors, now accompanies the Form 1040A. Taxpayers who elect to use the tax table and determine their own tax in filing this return should include payment of any additional tax due, or should enter the amount of overpayment made, to set up a refund claim.

The Revenue Service will continue to compute taxes and bill taxpayers for any balance of tax due, or send refund checks where due, for those persons not desiring to figure their own tax status. Mr. Glotzbach urged Form 1040A users to make their entries first on the sample form which is printed on the instruction sheet, and then transfer their entries, after they have checked them for accuracy, to the actual card form itself.

Burt Lancaster, Katharine Hepburn Head Star Cast in 'The Rainmaker'

One of the year's outstanding motion pictures, Hal Wallis' "The Rainmaker," the story of a smooth-talking con man and the ranch girl whose life he changes, will open April 3 at the Beach Theatre. A uniquely-told blend of drama and high comedy, it stars Burt Lancaster and Katharine Hepburn and co-stars Wendell Corey, Lloyd Bridges, Earl Holliman and Cameron Prud'homme, with N. Richard Nash's screenplay based upon his own hit Broadway play.

From the day of its first showing, the Paramount film has been receiving the strongest praise, with its star and supporting performances, the direction of Joseph Anthony and the gripping quality of its story being mentioned for "highest honors." Produced by Hal Wallis, creator of "The Rose Tattoo" and "Come Back, Little Sheba," the VistaVision - Technicolor film stacks up as one of his most memorable achievements.

Following up his sensational performance in "The Rose Tattoo," Lancaster is cast in another starring role: as a wandering gambler who sells his rain-making "powers" to unsuspecting, drought-ridden Western towns. The incomparable Katharine Hepburn, in what is being called her finest performance, portrays the "plain" daughter of a farm family Lancaster rents out to. Tears, laughter and intense drama result when Miss Hepburn and her whole family succumb to Lancaster's slick gift of gab.

Top supporting roles are taken by Wallace Ford and pert, blonde and beautifully proportioned young newcomer, Yvonne Lime, whose scenes with Holliman, the year's acting sensation, have received special audience acclaim.

The station wagon is becoming increasingly popular among car owners. This model accounted for only five per cent of total production in 1953, but promises to climb to better than 12 per cent in 1957.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 113, Va. Beach—Its Aims, Purposes

The opening lines of the Preamble, "For God and country we associate ourselves together," tells quite a lot in the story of the American Legion Auxiliary and its work. These following words are taken at random from the Preamble "to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of obligation to the community, state and nation; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth." To understand how these words are fulfilled one must know a little of the program of work of the auxiliary in general and Unit 113, Princess Anne County in particular. The American Legion Auxiliary is the largest women's patriotic organization in the world. It works hand in hand with the American Legion which this month is celebrating its 38th anniversary.

The auxiliary functions at several levels—local, Dept., (State) and national. A program of service and activity is planned for each year and incorporates, in part, the following: Rehabilitation, Child Welfare, Legislation and National Security, Community Service, Americanism, Pan-American Study, Poppy program, Civil Defense and Girls State.

1. "Rehabilitation means the complete restoration of the veteran and his family to normal function and adjustment, physically, mentally, socially and vocationally, for the fullest possible life compatible with his abilities and disabilities." This is quoted from Mr. R. T. Barrett, National American Legion Auxiliary Chaplain. The auxiliary members spend much time working with the disabled veterans in our Veterans hospitals. Volunteer workers, serving as Gold Ladies have chalked up a wonderful record of hours of hospital service. Sounds like a small thing but to a veteran whose life day after day is almost the same routine, these women render a great service. They read to patients, write letters for them, shop for them and whenever possible they arrange entertainment. Unit 113 has a fine record of hospital hours of service.

2. High in the auxiliary activities is the Poppy program. These sacred memorial flowers are hand made by hospitalized veterans. On Poppy Day each year auxiliary members sell these poppies. By buying and wearing a poppy each of us is giving employment to disabled veterans and helping to mend broken minds and bodies. We also are giving comfort and help to veterans and their families in need. Another phase of Rehabilitation work in hospitals concerns the Xmas gift shoes. Units contribute funds to support these shoes. Members assist each year in gift selection and wrapping. Thus the veterans are able to choose gifts for their own families and help maintain their usefulness and self-respect. Gifts are also provided for the veteran, along with various forms of entertainment. These activities help our veterans know that they have not been forgotten and that we do care about the sacrifices they have made. One has only to hear the grateful thanks of these men to realize how important hospital work is. Unit 113, as well as other units in the area regularly give parties to patients at Keoughan Veterans Hospital.

Blind therapy articles such as baskets, rugs, footstools, etc., are sold by auxiliary members. Made entirely by blind hospitalized veterans these lovely and useful articles afford another means of helping the veteran to help himself.

3. Child Welfare is just what it says. The auxiliary helps whenever possible, children in need. This may mean food, clothing, dental and eye care, milk for school children and many other direct benefits. Sometimes Unit 113 has been called upon to assist needy families, particularly veterans families. Perhaps there is a hospitalized parent or a father unable to work or the breadwinner may be an invalid. Household items, furnishings, clothing as well as funds are often donated. It is worth mentioning that the American Legion has established a Child Welfare Memorial Fund. The goal of the Child Welfare Foundation is to help find means of preventing social and physical ills which befall many of today's children. The foundation, to date, has made seven grants, totalling $52,500 to organizations concerned with retarded children, child health, juvenile delinquency, education and mental health. Unit 113 contributed early to this organization.

At other times the Unit has given beach parties and Xmas parties to local underprivileged children. This auxiliary regularly donates to various organizations such as the Polio Foundation, Heart Fund, Muscular Dystrophy Fund, Cerebral Palsy Foundation, American Cancer Society, to mention a few.

4. Pan-American Study aims to better acquaint our members with our neighbors to the south and to promote peace and friendship among the 21 Republics of the Western Hemisphere. Usually, if possible, a film on the country being studied, this year Honduras, is shown as part of the Pan-American program. Essay and report contests are held each year in Pan-American study.

5. Membership—always a goal and responsibility for each member as well as the Unit Membership Chairman. This year, largely through the efforts of the membership chairman, Mrs. L. B. Walker and the Unit president, Mrs. Harry Beers, the membership of Unit 113 has almost doubled.

6. Also integral parts of the American Legion Auxiliary are the Legislation and National Security programs. Unit 113, as well as all other units stand ready to assist the American Legion National Security Program whenever laws, bills or resolutions of national importance are before our legislators. Then the units, through telegrams, and letters lend their support, or in any event, express an opinion. Thus we have a voice in our government.

7. The Community Service program embraces a number of things concerning the auxiliary. We strive to cooperate with the American Legion in whatever undertaking the Post has set for itself in the community. Unit 113 has donated flags to Girl Scout troops and to schools, has worked to aid in the beautification program of our city. We also work with local civic organizations whenever needed on community projects.

8. Civil Defense programs have always had the support of the A.L.A. At various times unit members have attended lectures, taken first-aid courses and home nursing courses. A new Warden Service of the Civil Defense program will most certainly have the support of the American Legion Auxiliary. We will hope to help put this service into action.

9. Americanism—This word can mean both small and large things to us. But certainly we think first of the things—freedom of religion, freedom of speech and the press, rights of assembly and petition. We as members of the American Legion Auxiliary are pledged to defend our country against all enemies, to be loyal Americans, to keep in our hearts and minds that our country is what we make it with our words, deeds, activity or inactivity. We remember the men who gallantly died to keep us free and the thousands also who were wounded in mind and body. With these things in our minds we endeavor to present to our Unit an Americanism program which keeps in pace with the times. We strive to teach our children to love our nation, to be loyal citizens.

10. Girls State—Most of us know that Girls State is a school of citizenship. The girls who attend are carefully selected from high schools in the area and are sponsored by the A.L.A. as well as many fine organizations. At Girls State they meet other girls, learn procedures of government. They learn to conduct political campaigns, how laws are made and many other factors concerning our democracy.

Unit 113, without boasting, has a fine record of achievement, over the years, one of which it is justly proud.

Anchorage, Alaska, and its surrounding area, which is currently experiencing rapid growth, will have its electrical power boosted by a nuclear reactor, to be pressed into service by 1962.

The St. Lawrence Seaway, now under construction, will be 744 miles long from the mouth of the St. Lawrence River to the Great Lakes. It will be the largest inland waterway ever built for ocean-going vessels.

AUTO DECATHLON PROVES-

CHEVY'S THE CHAMPION OF THE ROAD!

Drive the car that proved its superior steering, braking, cornering, road-holding and passing ability in the world's first Auto Decathlon, a ten-way test of the driving qualities you want.

Chevy proved it's the champ in the world's first Auto Decathlon, certified by the NATA. It showed how beautifully it handles, how quickly it recovers from emergency situations—like quick turns and stops—which can cause a car to lose its even-keel stance on the road.

Chevy waltzed through some of the roughest challenges ever laid down to measure how a car behaves when the going is tough. And it beat all other cars in its field and all the higher priced cars tested, too!

That's Chevrolet's sure and solid going for you. Come in and drive the winner!
